Kathie Butler

Kathie,

What can I say to a super friend like you? Except maybe I can say, "I appreciate you very much." We've really had a great year together in Algebra with our (Ha, ha,) favorite teacher! Kathie our friendship this year has been really super and next year it'll be even greater. I value our friendship greatly and I hope it will never change except for the better!

Lots of Love Always,
Marcella

P.S. Call me over the summer and 293-1183
Take care of Bruce, he's worth it.

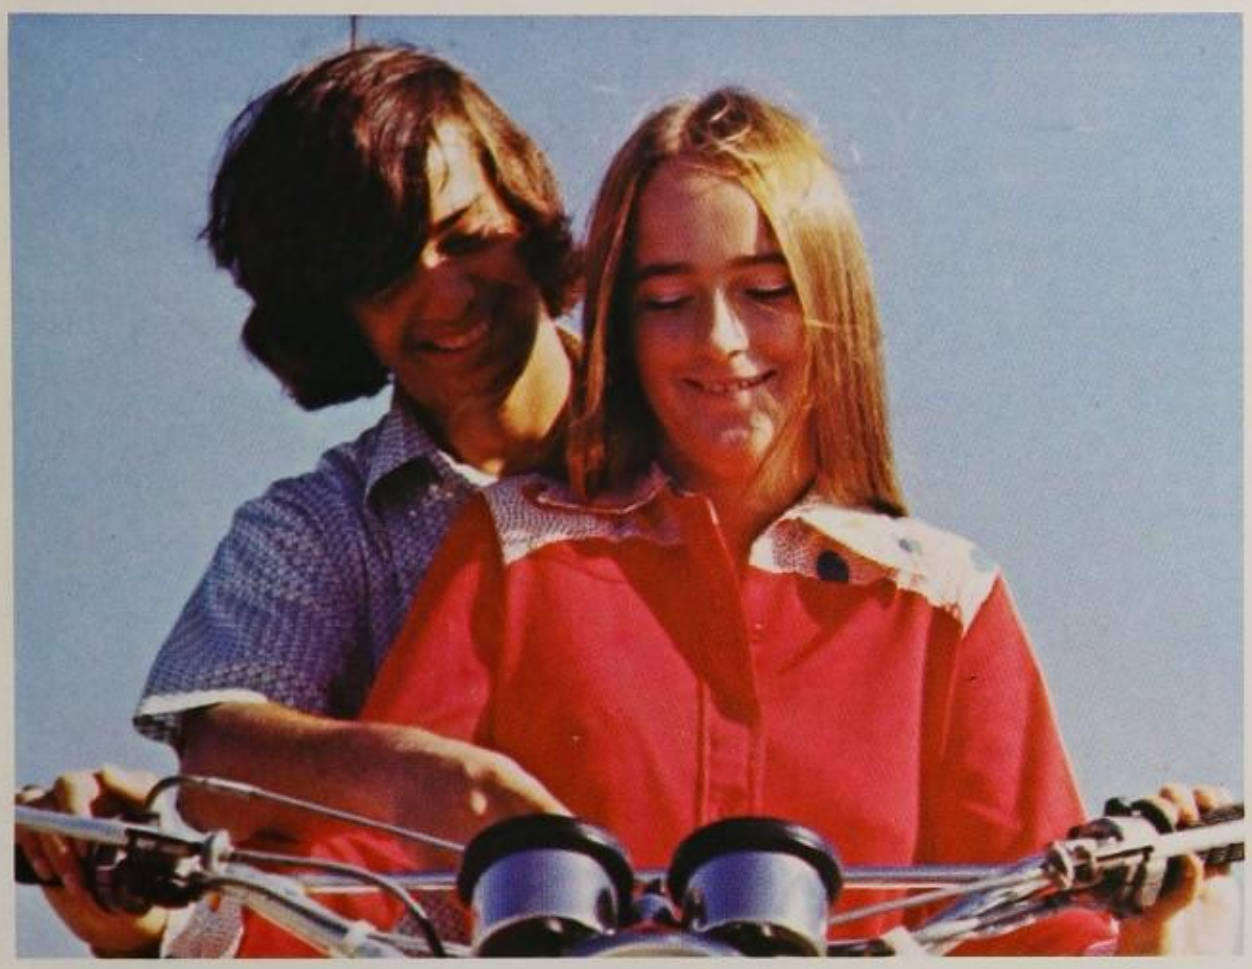
Keeping up with the latest FASHIONS AND HOBBIES preoccupied students year-round. Of the many new up-to-date trends in fashion, the most popular included platform shoes, baggies, and shrinks. The leather craze also joined the fashion scene with the cut, painted purses, belts, key chains, and wide watch bands. Decoupage became a female fancy with the making of decorative purses and plaques. Scrambling, tennis, fishing, and other outdoor hobbies and activities highlighted the after school routines of Trojans throughout the year.

By phone Candy Critchfield sets a date to shop for new clothes.

Clad in leather fashions are Donna Wright and Smokey Wilkerson.



Giving Michelle Reed her first motorcycle lesson is Danny Gentry.

Trying out new fishing tackle are Lora Meadows and Richard Page.

Participating in the latest of female fancies, Jo Seijo adds finishing touches to her decoupage purse.

Showing Kira Vise her completed I.D. card is Mr. Dale Brushwood.

Finding rooms are Jim Rexroat, Kim Ripley, and Denise Osborn.

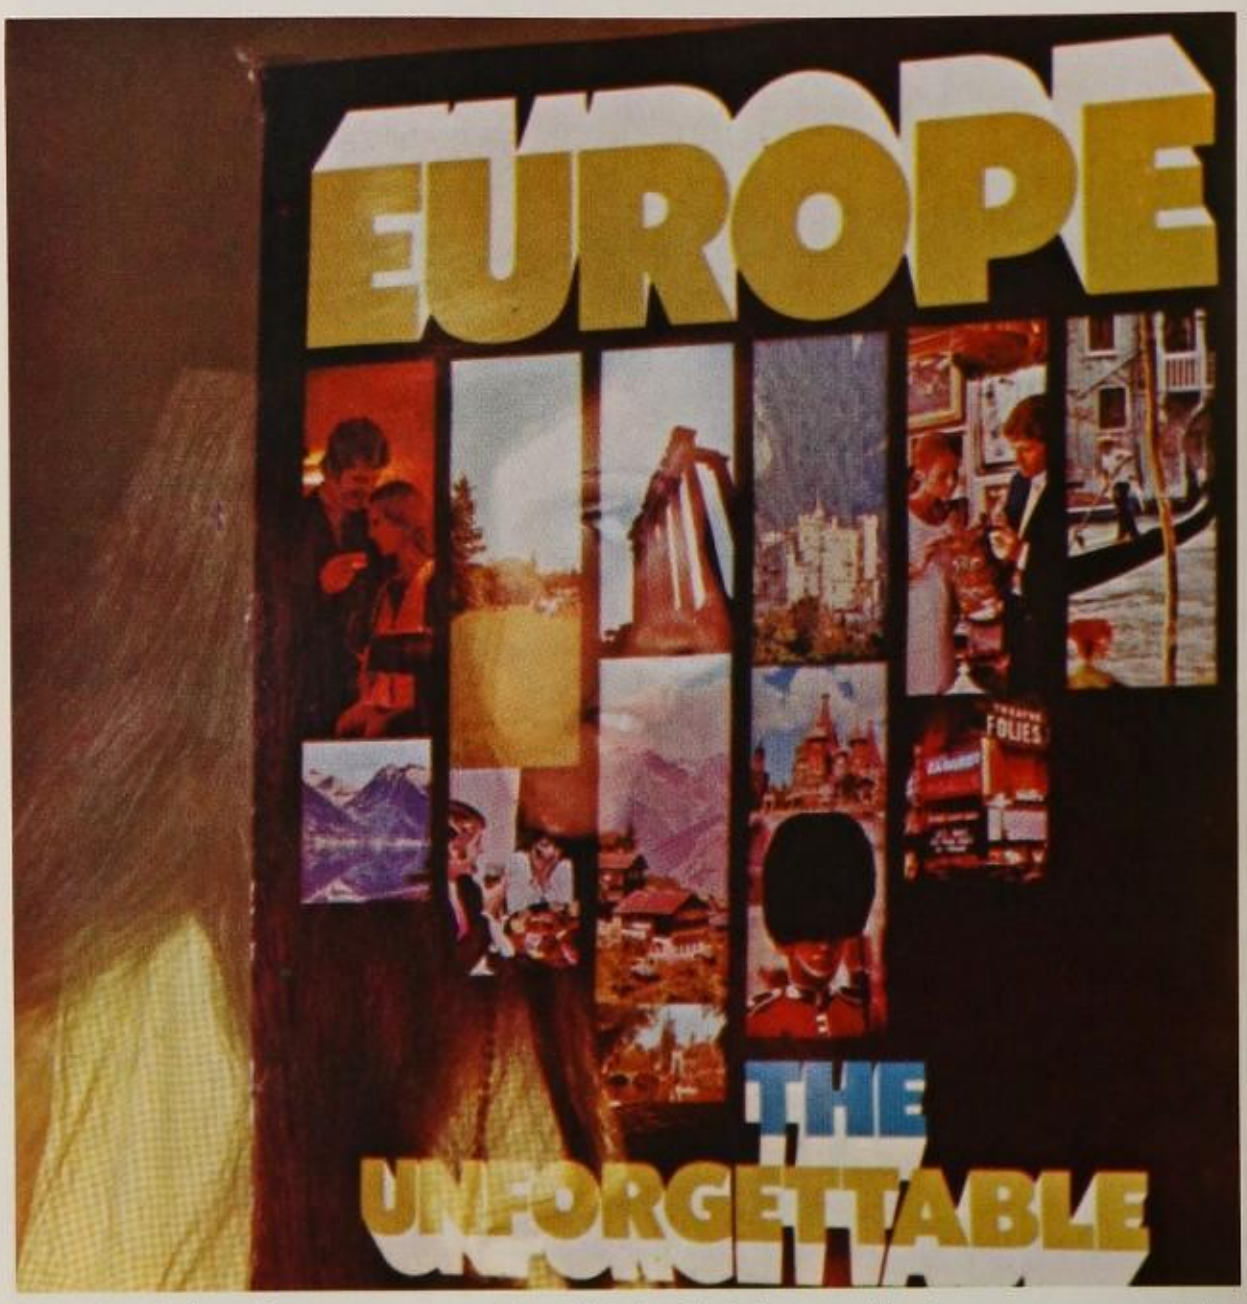
On Farmer Day Teresa Browning shows school spirit by her attire.

Meeting people and following new schedules were tasks students encountered during FIRST DAYS. There were several changes around campus involving lunchshifts, homeroom, covered walkways, a new 800 building, and a recent administrative requirement of identification cards. Orientation for new pupils was sponsored by Student Government and took place in the first week during gym classes. The Howdy Dance kicked off the year, while various clubs began by pledging underclassmen and seniors. Farmer Day was recognized as the first school-wide spirit activity. In October juniors attended an assembly featuring the Spurlows. In opening months many projects kept Trojans busy.

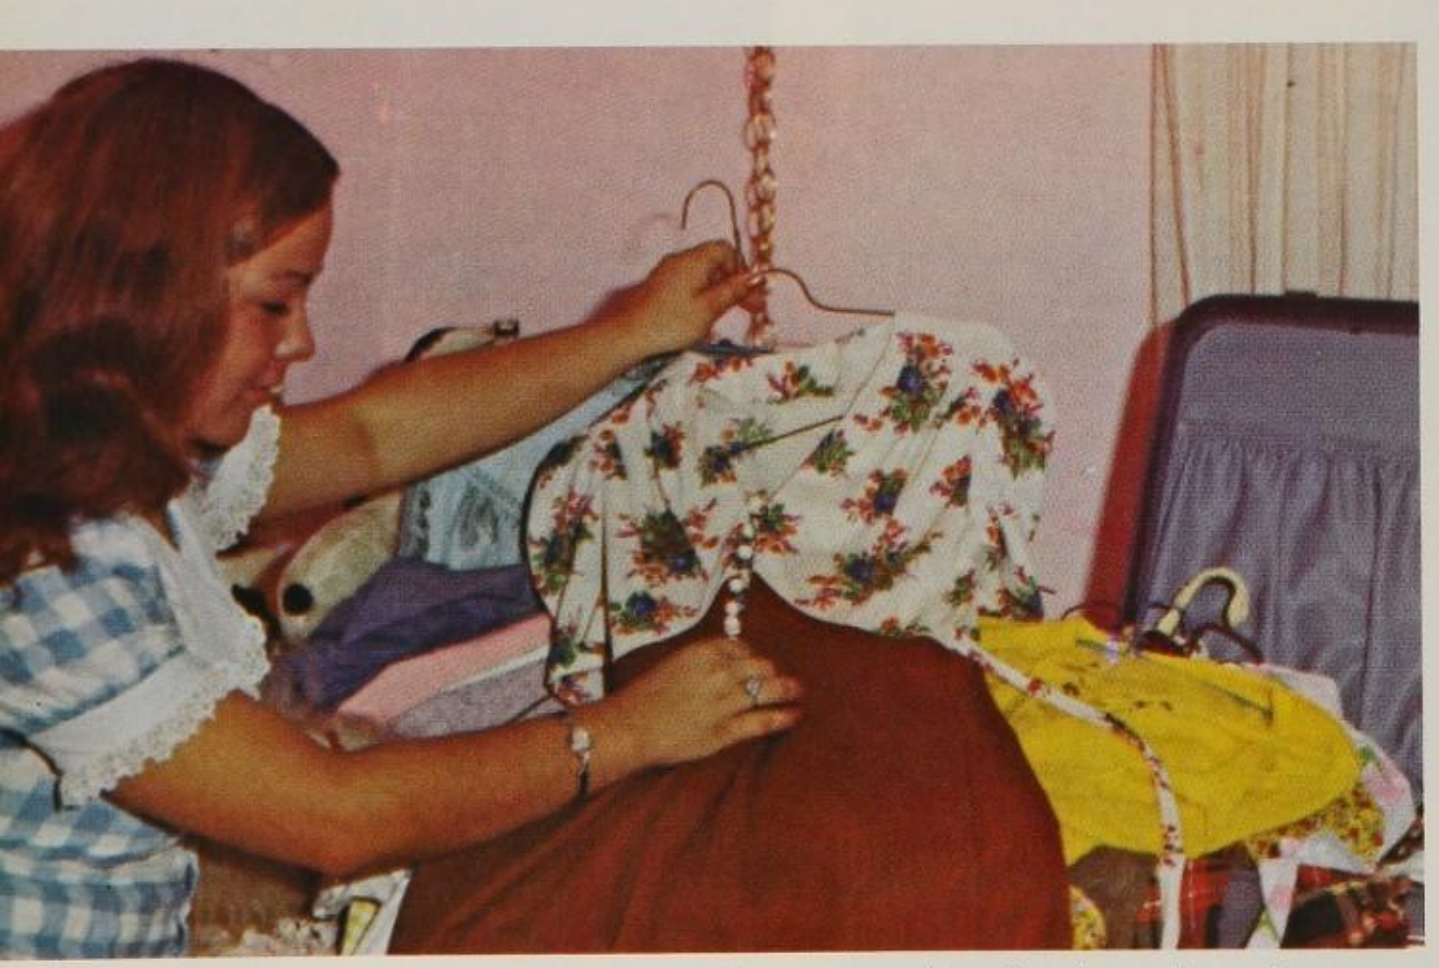
During a Spurlow concert Miss Holly Lawrence becomes a performer.

Taking part in a pep rally skit are Lynda Brown and Donna Seals.

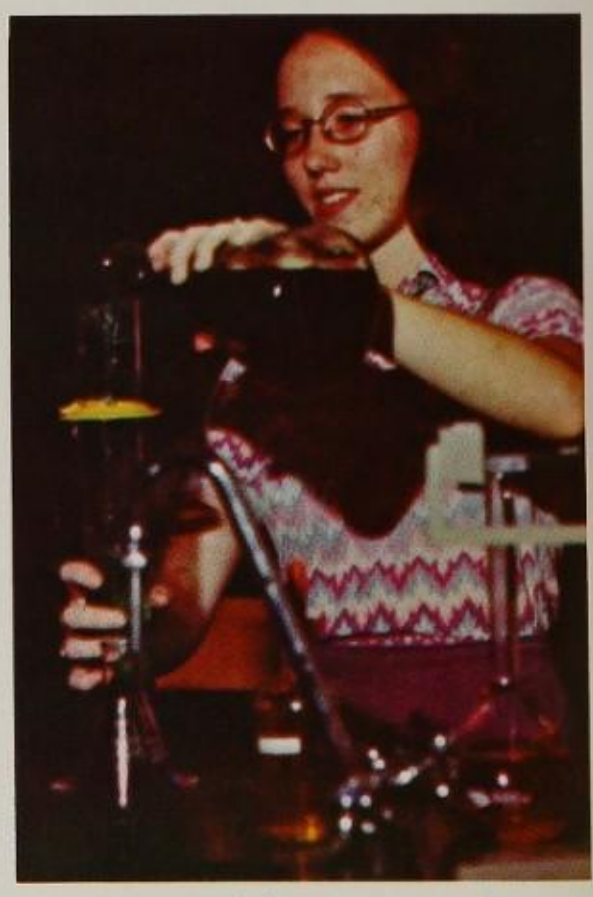
Involved in national and international activities, SENIOR LEADERSHIP contributed to the community of Pine Hills. Girls' State and Boys' State gave Diane Czarnecke and Pete Taylor the opportunity to fill a variety of governmental posts. The only semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship competition was Colleen Gilrane. Combining travel and learning, Terri Smith took part in the European Study Plan, while Joyce Brown was selected by her classmates to enter into the Lou Frey Internship Program in Washington, D.C. As a result she was able to observe governmental procedures first hand. Senior leadership in the community involved scouting, YMCA, service organizations, and church and hospital work.



Enriched by European study, Terri Smith recalls her summer trip.



Packing for her trip, Joyce Brown readies for Lou Frey Program.



Completing lab is National Merit semi-finalist, Colleen Gilrane.

While on scouting backpack trip, Mike Robinson estimates the directions as Steve Joplin consults a map.

Encouraging spirit, Cynthia Crisp leads Trojan cheers at bonfire.

Preparing sign for homecoming, Mary Laur adds finishing touches.

Celebrating on Kiddie Day are Marcella Hayes and Susie Barrowman.

Displaying "Old Woman and the Shoe" theme is Akamai's prize winning float with Jackie Woulfe, Shari Mariotti, and Robin Galkin.

To encourage homecoming enthusiasm SPIRIT WEEK began on October 15 with Club Day. All club members celebrated this day by wearing jerseys and displaying signs. Tuesday was designated as Sock It To 'Em Day and students wore colorful clothing and socks. Commissioned as Kiddy Day, on Wednesday Trojans wore children's clothing in keeping with homecoming's theme, "Tales Retold: A Salute To Childhood." Green and White Day on Thursday was also parade and bonfire day. Friday cheerleaders presented Felicitas with the most spirited club trophy and Akamai received an award for the best float in the parade.

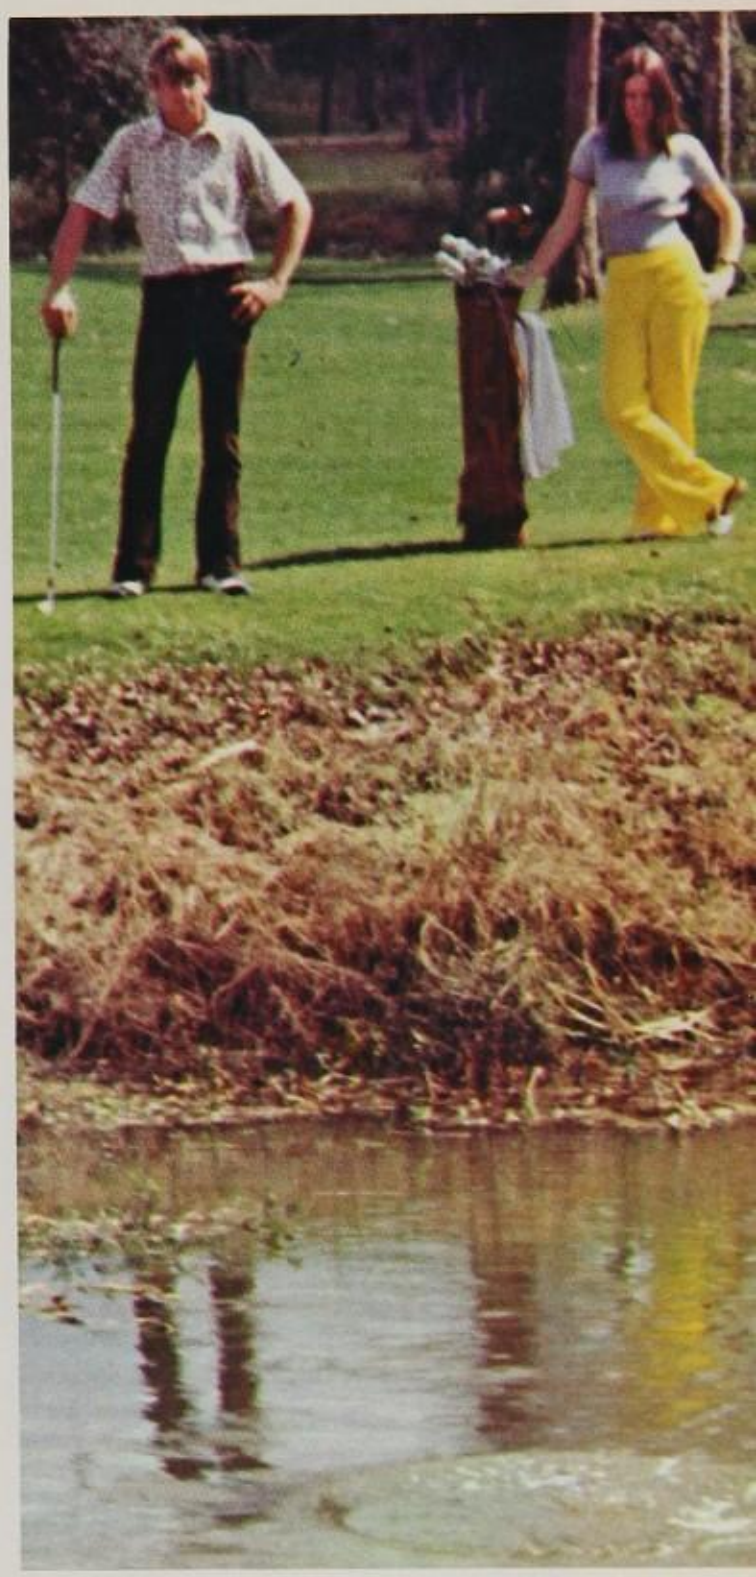
Colleen Gilrane and Barbara Vogt portray Sock It To 'Em Day.

Planning a Wekiva River canoe trip for Saturday, Penney McCluskey and Carl Sweatt discuss needed supplies.

Getting reacquainted, Bruce Epple and Bobbi Campion share memories.

Returning to stable after ride are Kay Carpenter and Lee Carrick.

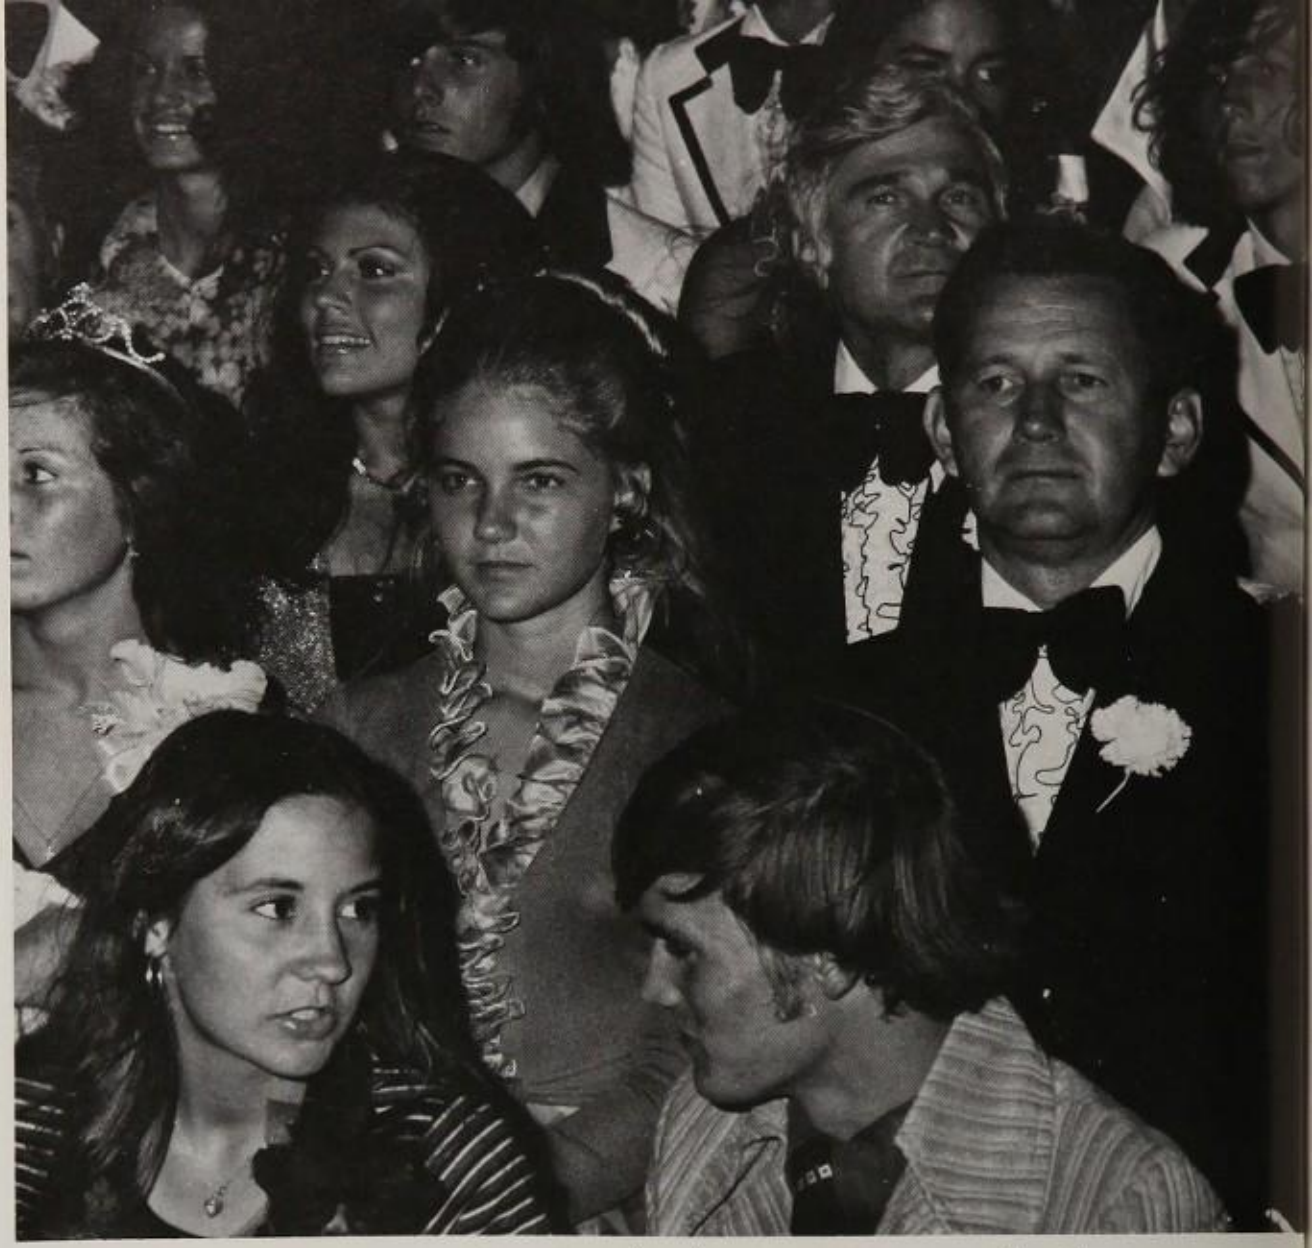
Orlando, attraction center of Central Florida, provided Trojans with facilities for self-expression on WEEKENDS. Students, looking forward to the end of each week, prepared themselves for various planned and unplanned activities. In addition to attending school games, many Trojans enjoyed a trip to the beach or a day at Disney World. Many outdoor activities, such as golf, tennis, and horseback riding, kept students active on weekends.



Watching helplessly, Bill Morley and Cheri Steele follow golf ball.

Daydreaming, Melody Simmons recalls memories of her first prom.

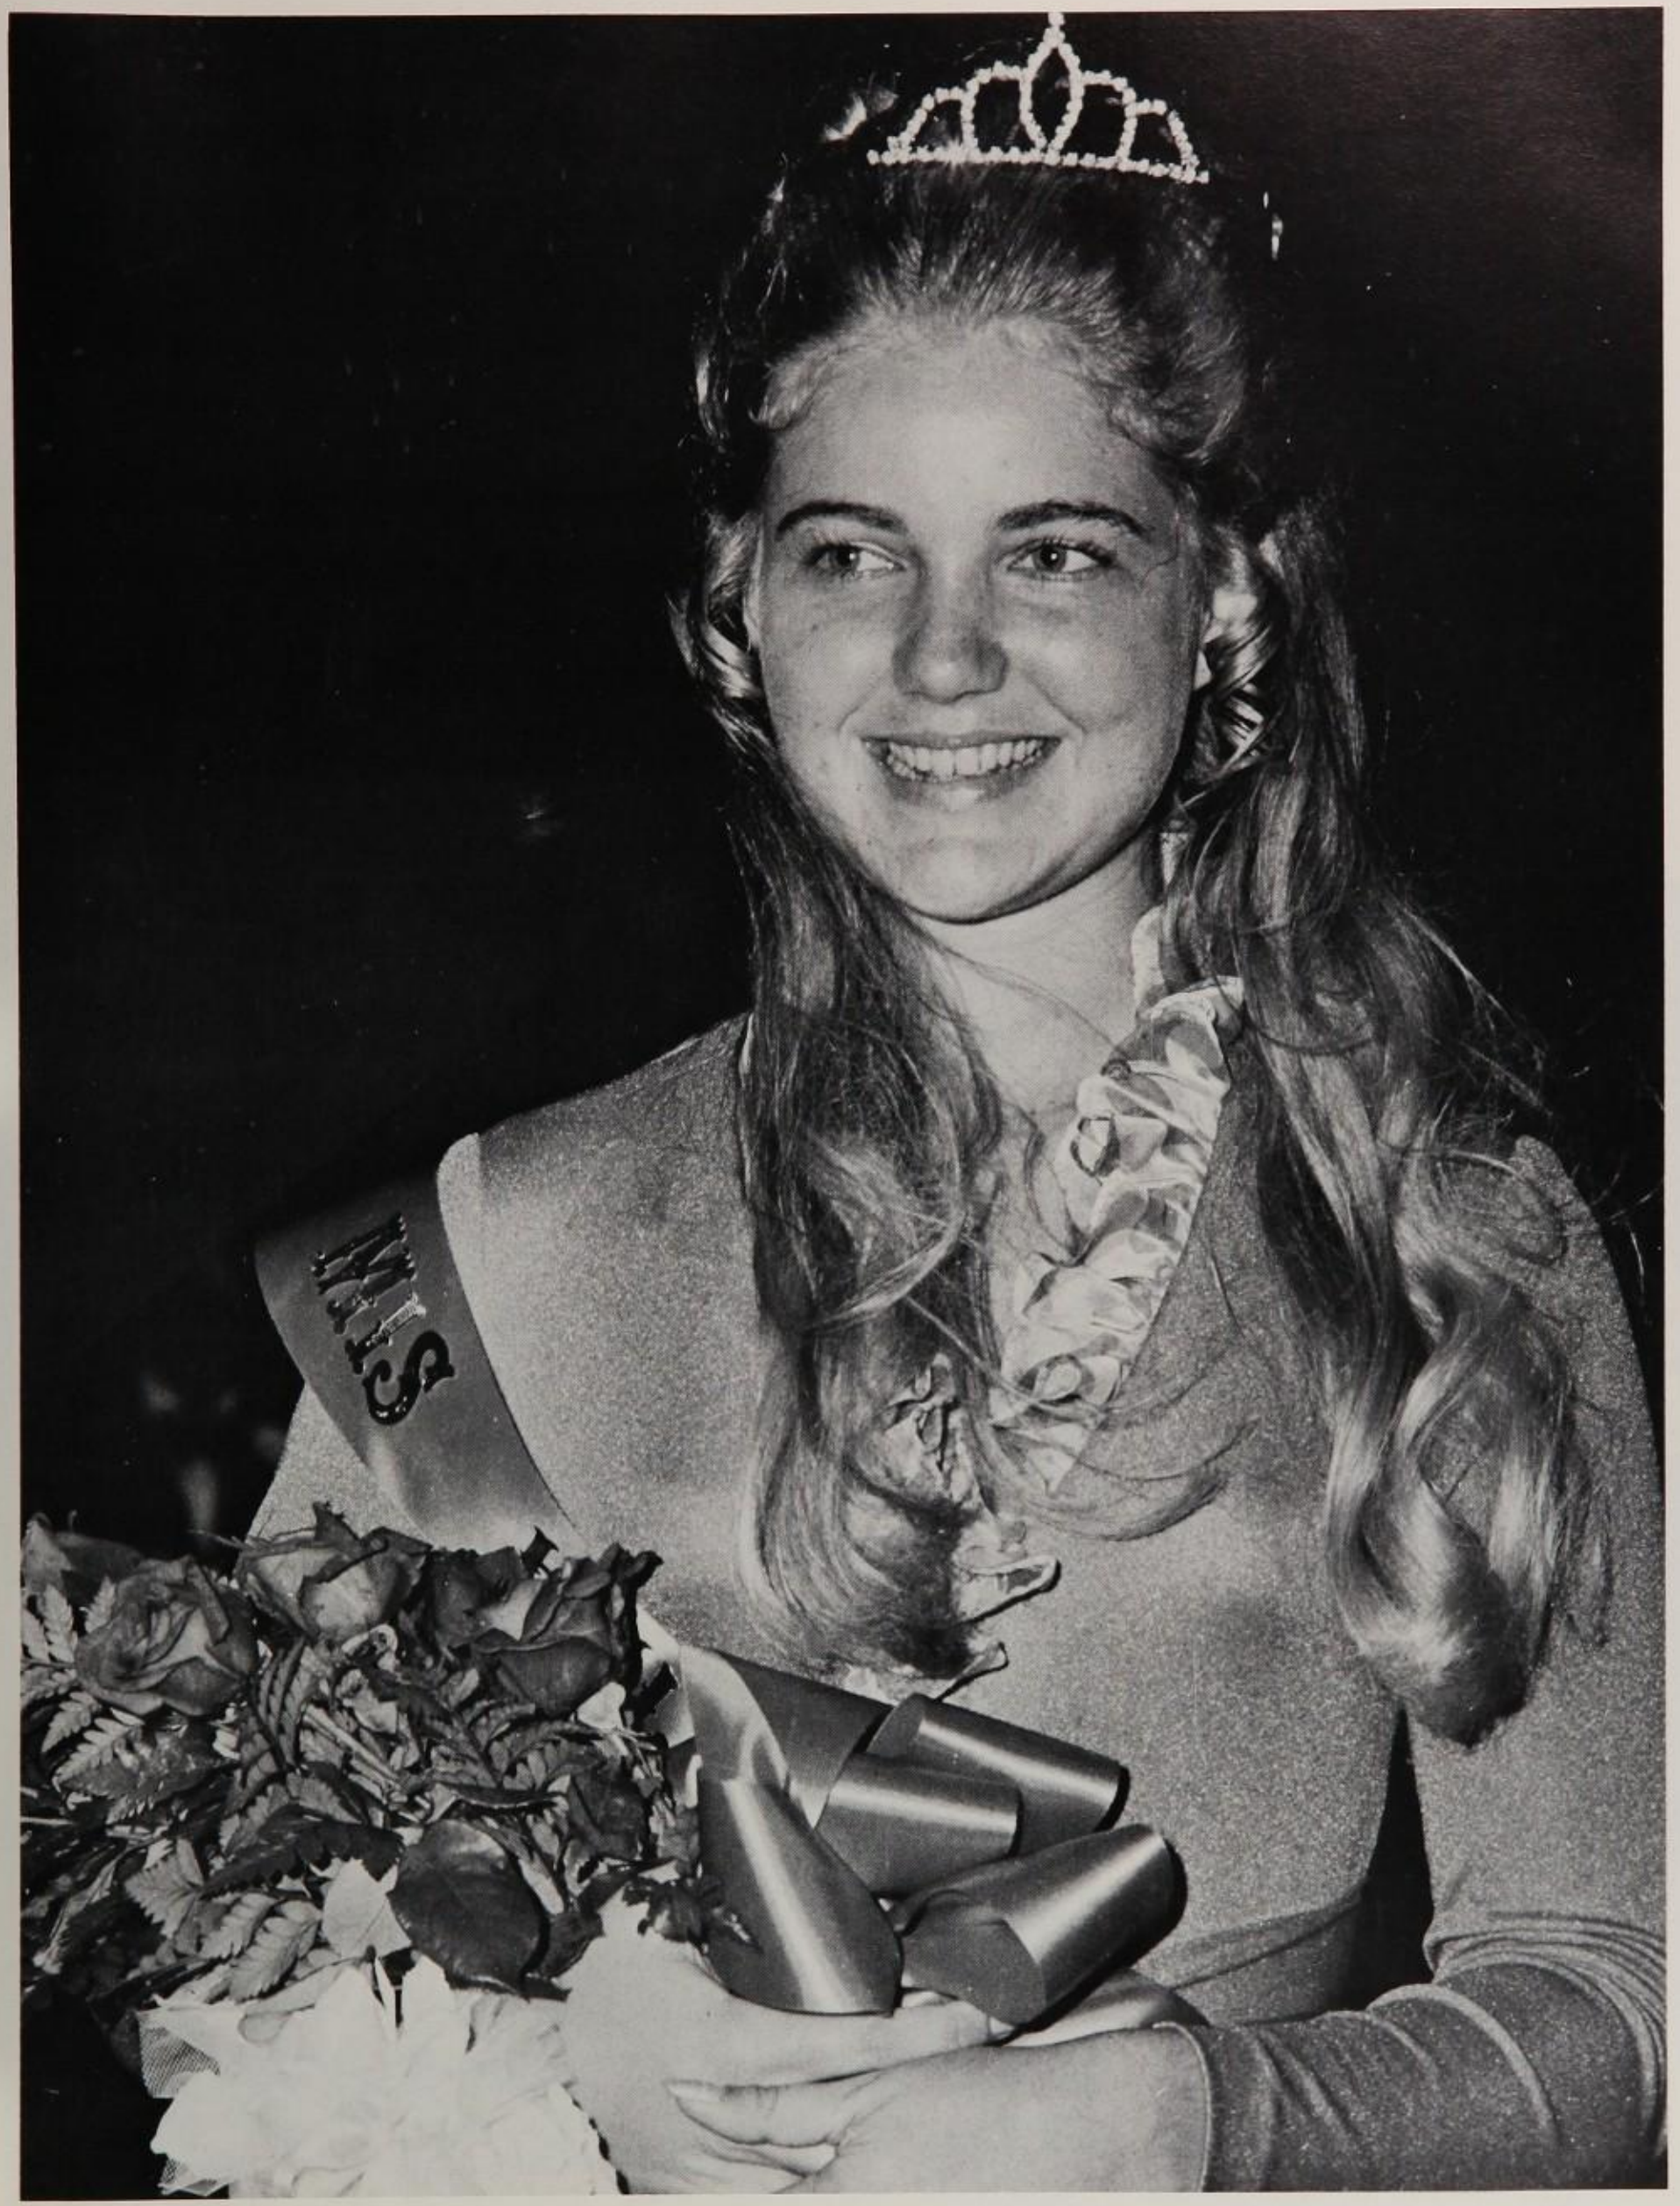
During halftime of the HOMECOMING game against Boone, Teresa Eifert was crowned the 1973 Helen of Troy. The queen and her senior court, Vicki Conney, Terri Smith and Barbara Campion were escorted, for the first time in the school's history, by their fathers, in keeping with the theme, "A Salute to Childhood." Junior attendants were Teresa Browning, Candy Critchfield and Kim Jones. Laura Darrow, Cindy Swanson and Debbie McKnight were sophomore attendants. "Patent Pending" provided the music for "Cinderella's Ball" held in C Building after the game.



Awaiting halftime, attendants and their escorts watch the game.

Dancing after the game are Steve Tourville and Annette Shoulder.

During halftime Teresa Eifert is crowned the new Helen of Troy.



Following the halftime crowning ceremonies, Teresa Eifert assumes her reign as the new homecoming queen.

During halftime of the Evans-Oak Ridge game, the Senior Class presented the SENIOR MISS CONTEST. Qualities considered in judging were beauty, poise, personality, response to questions, and school and community activities. Leading businessmen and women in the community composed the panel of judges. Barbara Vogt was chosen first runner-up, and Brenda McFarlane, last year's Senior Miss, escorted by Mr. Bud Johnson, presented Joyce Brown with the winner's title and crown.

Watching ball game, contestants anticipate halftime ceremonies.

Awarding Senior Miss Joyce Brown is Brenda MacFarlane.

Escorting Senior Miss Contest winner Joyce Brown is David King.

Chosen as finalists in 1974 Sweetheart Contest are Donna Wright, Laura Darrow, Donna Thomas, Vicki Conney, and Barbara Campion.

Presenting winner's roses to surprised Vicki Conney is A. Luppino.

Awaiting judges' final eliminations, participants talk backstage.

Held on February 14, the SWEETHEART CONTEST was sponsored by Varsity Cheerleaders and Mrs. Barbara Callahan. The contestants were selected by homerooms, clubs, and classes. The contest consisted of sixty-six participants who were judged on beauty, poise, and personality. The panel of five judges included the 1971 homecoming queen Patti Steen, now Mrs. Patti Barrington. The contest was comprised of three eliminations. The field of sixty-six contestants was cut to thirty-two, eleven, and then to five finalists. They were: sophomores Donna Thomas, Laura Darrow, junior Donna Wright, and seniors Vicki Conney and Barbara Campion. Last year's sweetheart, Anna Luppino, presented the 1974 Sweetheart Vicki Conney with her sash and roses.

Encouraged by last year's publication success, the CHARIOT STAFF worked to again attain a high national rating. The yearbook staff attended daily classes and, nearing deadlines, participated in after hour work sessions when necessary. The sale of advertisements to merchants, club page sales and the sale of books represented the only funds used to publish the book. Together with the newspaper staff, Chariot members arranged a new sales package. The publications package included a subscription to the school newspaper and a yearbook and cover.

Front Row: D. Gibson, J. Power, J. Smith, D. Bardine, S. Yuhas, C. McEvers, J. Mezzatesta. Middle Row: co-sponsor, Miss Wana Senter; T. Eifert, D. Davis, M. Neal, H. Hopkins, L. Henke, L. Miller, P. Mundy, C. Steele, C. Anderton; co-sponsor, Miss Cheryl Stark. Back Row: D. Sarver, B. Cunningham, D. Fowler, B. Randle, L. Sarver, K. Toler, J. Shimkonis, M. Powell, D. Short, P. Perrault.

Traveling toward the yearbook distribution date, Chariot staff members celebrate final copy shipment.

Attempting to salvage layouts by Jan Marston and Susan Welker is yearbook co-sponsor, Miss Wana Senter.

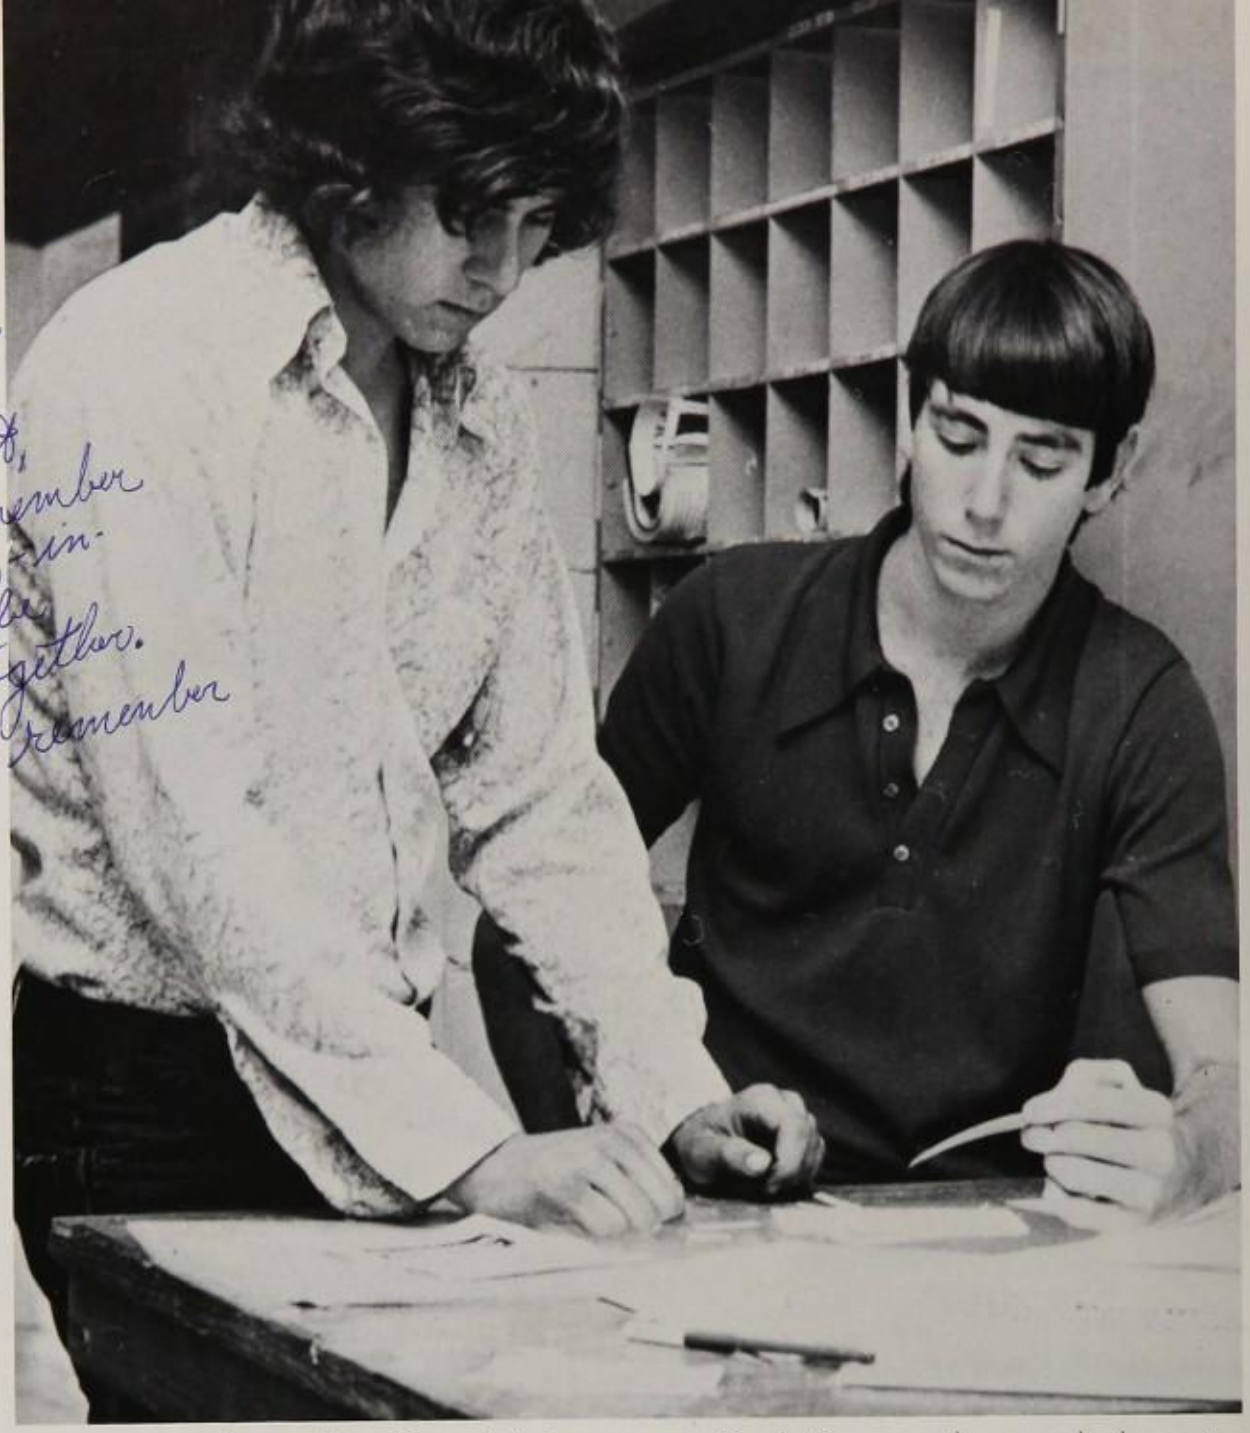
Overwhelmed by last deadline are Danny Waldrop and Hap Hopkins.

Explaining yearbook problems is junior staffer, Patty Perrault.

Kathie,

Can you believe it's over already? Not me, but I suppose all good things must come to an end, even Mr. "Stump" Havas's class. This year has been a real riot, he is a first class jerk. Remember to come and tell the Editor-in-Chief next year, and maybe we'll have some classes together. Anyway keep it clean and remember me whenever. Love Mark

Developing pictures in darkroom are Mark Hussey and Kelly Bruce.



On staff light table, Tom Natress and Paul Kremp draw ads layouts.

Adding up labels collected, Blaz Bravar and Paul Jaffe find the totals.

Working daily in class and many days after school, the TROJAN TRIBUNE STAFF kept the student body, administrators, teachers, and community informed of activities and related news events of Evans High. During the summer, Mark Hussey and Kelly Bruce built a staff darkroom on one side of room 820. This enabled the photographers to do all their work at school rather than at home as in previous years. Since the room was also used for Mrs. Mary Bell's classes, office space for co-editors was set up in the back of the room. During the second semester the staff worked on the Colgate-Palmolive School Action plan, collecting box-tops and labels. These were exchanged for cash used to purchase staff typewriters.

Helping out the children at Great Oaks Village was just one of the many projects of the NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY. Their main purpose was to organize different sports for the children to play. Another project was collecting toys at Christmas for underprivileged children. For school projects, members painted guidance offices, offered tutoring in any course to all students, and took care of raising and taking down the flag. All money they earned from candy and hot pretzel sales went towards the state convention, their Yearbook page, the tapping and reception, and their installation banquet. In March the annual tapping of a new Honor Society members was held in the gym followed by a reception for honored parents and members. The club ended the year with a large installation banquet.

Taking down the school flag are Debbie Kidder and Barbara Vogt.

Helping Mr. Larry Hunt to clean his alligator cage is Jeff Zabel.

Composed of all sophomores who were tapped in previous Junior High Honor Societies, TORCH SOCIETY emphasized academic achievement. Their main service project to the school was to help a teacher. Members volunteered their services to various teachers and did such things as cleaning gum from underneath desks, washing blackboards, cleaning animal cages, and grading papers. A service to the community was their annual canned food drive in December. All the cans collected were given to Cat Cadigan School for girls. Various members planted shrubs and bushes to beautify the school. They sold all sorts of candy to earn money toward a club gift to the school. They ended the school year with a banquet for all fifty-six members.

Instilling good citizenship, high ideals and promoting school spirit were the main aims of STUDENT GOVERNMENT. Under the supervision of Mr. Paul Banfield, Student Government sponsored homecoming festivities, Sophomore Orientation, the Howdy Dance, assemblies, and pep rallies. Money was raised with the sale of address books, jerseys and sweaters, dance tickets, and with a car wash at Holler Chevrolet. As a service project on Thanksgiving, members of Student Government prepared a complete meal for a group of elderly ladies. The Student Government was represented in FASC as the secretary-treasurer of District III.

Selling B. Epple jersey are Mr. P. Banfield and Collette Reaves.

Discussing black leaders are Mrs. B. Pitts and Mr. L. Lindgren.

Promoting better inter-racial relations was a prime objective of the BI-RACIAL CLUB. Club members, with the support of Mrs. Barbara Pitts and Mr. Les Lindgren, highlighted National Negro History Week with a series of morning announcements. A Madison candy sale was conducted to obtain campus beautification funds.

Preparing for Sweetheart Contest are Bev Wells and Althea Tucker.

Kathy,

It's been great knowing you for 2 years. Although we haven't been much of each other this year, I hope we don't lose contact of each other. You've got a great personality and I hope you keep it. Good luck in the future. Life is what you make it — so do your best.

Lynn Carol Sarver
Class of 74

As officers Connie Weber, Nancy Fowler and Pat Schilling listen, Debbie DeWeese delivers her speech during the tapping ceremony.

Some accomplishments of SPANISH HONOR SOCIETY included tapping Spanish students and selling candy. To be tapped, Spanish students had to have a B+ average in Spanish for one and one half semesters and no lower than a D in any other classes. This club met every other Monday with the motto "Todos a una" meaning "All for one." Selling M & M's, club members made money for the tapping ceremony. Held in the library's research area during February, new club members were initiated with all parents as honored guests.

Eating tacos at Lake Bryan are Jerry Reynolds and Bobbie Campion.

Entering a 'walking-float'' in Homecoming Parade and cleaning the gym were two activities of SPANISH CLUB. Using the theme ''Three Little Pigs and the Big Bad Brave,'' club members dressed in pig and wolf costumes and walked in the Homecoming Parade. After a request from Coach Pennington, club members cleaned the gym to prepare for the basketball season. Along with Spanish Honor Society, Spanish Club sold M&M's in an effort to make money. They also sold singing valentines in February. At the end of the year, dressed in Spanish costumes, club members had a party and ate Spanish food by Little Lake Bryan.

Organized to help enrich the study of France and its language, the only requirement for joining the FRENCH CLUB was to have taken at least one year of French. Meetings were held on alternate Thursdays. Under the direction of their sponsor, Mrs. Barbara Callahan, members held a bottle drive to earn money. Another project was aiding the French III students in locating or making props needed for competition at La Fete Francaise, an annual county wide contest. In the spring club members sampled French cuisine at a local French restaurant.

In order to earn money for various activities, members of LATIN CLUB sold booster buttons, candy and stuffed animals. A Roman-style banquet was held in December to celebrate the holiday Saturnalia. Club members represented the school in academic competition at the County Forum at Apopka High School, where they placed in four categories, putting them in third place overall. They also competed at District Forum at Boone, and in April twenty members traveled to St. Petersburg to attend the State Forum.

At Roman-style banquet master-slave teams race homemade chariots.

Peter Pan characters are featured on third place Latin Club float.

Spreading knowledge of German culture and lite was the primary objective of GERMAN CLUB. Students met every Tuesday to plan social activities and community projects. Club members helped create more school spirit around game times by making pep signs and posting them around school. The club also entered a float in the Homecoming Parade. On February 16 a faschingsball, or costume party, was held in a rented banquet hall. In addition to Evans members, student German clubs of other schools in the county attended the party. Dressed in original German clothes, students participated in German folk dances and sampled German dishes.

Using a wood model, Pat Schilling tutors Barb Koscielski in math.

Painting a math hallway, Denise Sarver and Karen Chase mix paint.

As a service project to the community, EUCLIDEAN HONOR SOCIETY members devoted Wednesday evenings to tutoring at Edgewood Boys' Ranch. Members explained math problems and taught the boys proper math techniques. At Christmas, the club gave the boys a party at the ranch. During the early part of second semester, club members sold green and white pennants on campus. For only 75 cents students could purchase these pep pennants and help boost school spirit. Club members also helped in campus improvement efforts by painting bright graphic designs, which doubled as math diagrams for students to analyze, on walls in the current math hallway in the retrievable building. The club applied for membership in a national math organization, Mu Alpha Theta.

Providing school and community services, CIVITAN members took part in various activities. Money-making projects included selling fruit cakes and candy. Sponsoring a slave day, members of the club sold themselves as slaves, working for a minimum of $ 1.50 per hour. As a community project Civitan held a Christmas party for the boys of the Edgewood Boys' Ranch, complete with presents for all. They also visited the Ranch monthly to play football and softball with the boys. In the spring, members worked at Primrose Home for Mentally Retarded Children to renovate the playground area. School projects included painting the parking lines.

Fixing up the student parking lot, George Ferber and Glen Sincic work to sweep away dirt while Oral Graham repaints parking lines.

At Boys' Ranch, Alan Sincic shows Mike Butler how to hold the bat.

Practicing for inter-club tourney are Bob Ortiz and Dan Fischer.

Providing opportunity for members to work together in service, INTERACT began the year by painting the press box on the football field. They also collected money for Muscular Dystrophy by having a parade of pennies, using a twenty-five gallon aquarium filled with coins. Charging fifty cents to guess how many pennies were in the aquarium, they raised over six hundred dollars. Among their fund-raising projects were car washes and candy sales. In May, their annual basketball tournament was held with competition among all boys' clubs on campus. In order for a boy to become an Interact member and participate in all these activities, he had to pledge for four weeks. This pledging involved several rather strange activities.

Fulfilling the motto "Commit Yourself," KEY CLUB participated in school and community projects including the Muscular Dystrophy Campaign, a county-wide March of Dimes roadblock and the rehabilitation of athletic field press box. Sponsoring Key was Mr. Bruce Grayson, who assisted members in fund-raising projects and supervised other club activities. Financial projects were a car wash and a handball tournament. Attending weekly luncheons sponsored by its parent organization, Kiwanis Club, Key members kept informed of the community needs.

Laur, Vicki Forgy, Barbara Cunningham, M. Venable, Beth Brown, Deb Comer, S. Batten, Pat Pinson, C. Blaine, G. Ridosh, Sheryl Estes, D. Utz.

Sponsoring service projects to both school and to community, KEYETTES demonstrated concern for others. Major events included providing special parties and planned activities for children attending Forrest Park Elementary School and making decorations for homecoming dance held in "C" building. Members showed school spirit by selling green and white pom-pons as a money-raising project, along with candy sales and car washes.

Making pep signs are Mary Laur, Beth Brown and Diane Vanderbrook.

At Forrest Park Elementary Patty Perrault talks with Tom Evans.

Donating shrubbery and trees for campus beautification, CIVINETTES, "Builders of Good Citizenship," performed duties related to their motto. Sponsored by Miss Cyndy Hoey and affiliated with East Orlando Civitan, they entertained both students and faculty by holding the Miss Ugly Contest in November. During the Christmas season Civinettes and their brother club, Civitan, sold Claxton fruit cakes. Civinettes also presented several Teacher of the Month Awards, given on the basis of outstanding service and dedication to the school. In addition to recognizing talented teachers, the club sponsored a cerebral palsy girl as a service project.

With Easter project are Kim Bravar, Vicki Conney, and Deb Davis.

Money raised from a bottle drive and car wash enabled FELICITAS Tri-Hi-Y to enter a float in the homecoming parade. The senior girls' club showed pride by hanging pep signs, and during spirit week the club was presented with the Spirit Award. Other highlights of the year were a combination slumber party and pot luck dinner, decoration of lunch tables to honor athletes, and an induction of officers, members, and big brothers with Mr. Dale Brushwood as guest speaker.

Decorating game lunch tables are Joyce Mezzatesta and S. Etter.

Induction ceremonies and a pot luck dinner started off a new year for AKAMAI TRI-HI-Y. Members sold Zotz, M&M's, and other candy to help finance needed materials for a float which won the first place trophy in the annual homecoming parade. Activities throughout the year included having a car wash and a Halloween party, sponsoring Billy Kemp in the Miss Ugly Contest, and voting Mr. Dave Andreone "Man of the Year." Akamai also sent two members to YMCA Convention.

Front Row: Darlene Matlock, Deb Bardine, Jackie Woulfe, Beverly Perry, Shari Mariotti, J. Continuing the tradition of Tri-Hi-Y's, the sophomore newly formed organization was called GALATEA. They entered a float in the Homecoming parade which came in second place. They also placed second in the spirit contest held earlier in the year. A major service project to the community involved the collection of cigarette packs to aid a little girl with leukemia. For every 100 packs turned in, a tobacco company donated a shot of medicine. With the girl needing a shot every other day, the club collected over 8000 packs. Other service and fund-raising projects included car washes, candy sales and the decoration of junior varsity basketball tables on the days of games.

Mixing fun with work, Lori Forester adds a few squirts of water to Carol Marks as Teri DeBoard looks on.

Beginning its sixth year at Evans, NIKE was made up of sophomore, junior and senior girls. The club was sponsored by College Park Business and Professional Women's Club. Among community projects done, the members gave Christmas and Valentine parties for the Senior Citizens West. Christmas gifts were given and refreshments served by club members. Nike sponsored the Junior-Senior Powder Puff football game with various girls' clubs participating. Making a profit of over ninety dollars, Nike planned to make this an annual fund-raising event. As a service project to the school, club members assisted at football games.

As Diane Taylor (Helen Keller) enacts a fit, Margaret Matlock (Mrs. Keller) and Chris Russell (Ann Sullivan) struggle with her.

Utilizing the drama room in the new language arts structure, the DRAMA CLUB staged two plays, The Miracle Worker in December and Spoon River Anthology in the spring. Use of the new room, equipped with a dressing room, stage and stage lighting, kept the club from disturbing classes in C building for practice and setting up props. The club met every three weeks to plan various activities, including a camping trip to the Ocala National Forest. Members attended all the plays given at Rollins' Annie Russell Theatre. The Evans drama group applied for and was granted membership in the National Thespian Society. Each individual had to have participated in some facet of stage production.

Front Row: Anita Matthew, Vicki Yowell, D. Under the direction of new sponsor, Mr. Doug Pettus, NATIONAL FORENSICS LEAGUE competed with speakers from various high schools. The NFL students read and were judged on their oral interpretations, group readings, and speeches. With a loss of district-ranking debators from the previous year, there were few returning debaters. In the fall, members traveled to Tallahassee to participate in a student congress where they debated important bills and issues. In mid-February members debated in district tournament at FTU.

Researching for competition are Marcella Hayes and Marilyn Adams.

Creating flowers are Judy Edwards, Debbie Bonta and Mary Pulliam.

Students interested in secretarial careers formed the FUTURE SECRETARIES OF AMERICA. Every month, along with six other district schools, Evans members attended a county meeting. There they listened to speakers and viewed fashion shows and skits depicting scenes in the office. The FSA members added to their treasury by having a paper flower sale, candy sale, and stationery sale. During the Easter holidays members decorated Easter baskets for Sunland Hospital.

With Easter baskets Mary Robinson and Dee Couch leave for Sunland.

Striving toward their goal of service, education, and progress in the clerical field of business were FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA, sponsored by Mrs. Sue Kimsey. These girls received early dismissal to report to their various jobs which involved the skills they learned in class as part of the Cooperative Business Education Program. Members took part in various community projects, including a March of Dimes Pledge Walk and roadblock, a candy and stationery sale, and the operation of a booth at a flea market. Profits were used toward preparations for their CBE Employer-Employee Banquet.

At Memorial Nursing Home, M. Robinson helps Mrs. Mary Carter.

Sponsored by Mrs. Sallie Amato, the club members of the COOPERATIVE HOME ECONOMICS organization earned money working in the afternoons after attending classes in the mornings. Working at jobs connected with Home Economics, the students filled various positions in department stores, restaurants and in a near-by day care center. Members visited and helped patients in a local nursing home and adopted them as "grandparents." Fund raising projects included selling gift items and candy both in the community and on campus. To add beauty to the school, arborvitae shrubs were given by the club and placed among other bushes.

Front Row: J. Yowell, Bonnie Keller, Eileen Hardesty, K. Roderick, F. Chandley, A. Plass. Middle Row: Mrs. S. Amato, B. Glisson, D. Warren, Oscarneda Thomas, J. With more students enrolled in COOPERATIVE HOME ECONOMICS, a second club group was formed with Mrs. Lou Hollingshead as sponsor. Club activities included helping with the Future Homemaker float for the homecoming parade. The club sent delegates to participate in district meetings at Tupperware Auditorium and publicized this event by putting up posters and signs in the community. Christmas gifts were collected and given to the children at Sunland Hospital as a Christmas project. As a year round project, wrapped birthday gifts and toys were donated and were given to the children.

At Sunland Mrs. Doris Becker accepts toys and presents from Ellen Newell, Jim Conner and Alethea Peters.

Through fund-raising activities FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA sent delegates to Clearwater to participate in meetings and exhibits. Led by sponsor, Mrs. Johnnie Subbs, the club held a membership drive and entered a float in the homecoming parade. As their theme they chose "A Small Child's Playroom." In keeping with the idea of working with senior citizens, FHA adopted Mrs. Harriet Maquette as their club grandmother. Mr. William Moy gave a speech on behavior at one of the November meetings. The annual Mother-Daughter Tea was the final highlight of club activities.

Awaiting parade time is Joey Alderman, FHA's "Jack in the box."

Helping on Arbor Day are J. Northcut, R. Hogsette, and T. Hammock.

Participating in the judging of livestock, meat and poultry occupied FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA delegates while attending the State Fair. The trips to Tampa and Gainesville were paid for from a February sixteenth plant sale, and delegates were chosen because of their high scholastic achievements. Two gardens were raised and harvested during the school year. Beets, radishes, and onions were a few of the many vegetables grown. Randy Hogsette was top ad salesman for the annual FFA vocational calendar which was printed in February and distributed in March and Arpil. Mr. Dana Venrick, Mr. Al Davis and Mr. William Fluitt were sponsors of the organization.

Beginning its third year on campus, OPTIMIST INTERNATIONAL, affiliate of the Senior Optimist International, was led by president Kathy Johnston. Club members sponsored several civic and school projects. In cooperation with Euclidean and Civitan clubs, they supplied toys for a Christmas party at the Edgewood Boys' Ranch. Club members also helped with re-landscaping and planting new trees in front of the retrievable building. In the spring the club submitted a V.D. program designed for county schools to the county board of education, and later they conducted a Cerebral Palsy Drive in the community. Money-making projects during the year included a candy sale and several car washes.

Stressing human development through human interests, WZUARETTES formed one of the new clubs on campus. Wzuarettes, which means "Beautiful Woman," was sponsored by Mrs. Glynette Brown and Mrs. Marjie Johnson. As a service project, club members participated in a Clean Up Day along with Bi-Racial and other clubs. In February, the club observed National Negro Week by putting on a show called "Black in Revue" for the school and by putting a display in the library. To give a distinctive look to their club, the girls made their own matching uniforms. Club members sold Sarah Coventry Jewelry in December. The money was used to help build up the new club's treasury. The club also entered two contestants in the annual Sweetheart Contest.

With the addition of a third teacher, Mr. Art Carlson, WORK EXPERIENCE enabled many sophomores to stay in school who might otherwise have quit. It provided on-the-job training for about eighty students who attended school part of the day and worked during and after school at a variety of jobs. With the motto, "Earning while learning," students received in-school credit for part time work. Students attended a group class and an individual class every day. During classes they learned the techniques for succeeding in the world of work. To stay in Work Experience, students had to hold and maintain a steady job and attend both classes regularly.

While obtaining high school credits, members of the BETA CHAPTER OF DECA received on-the-job training in several types of business. With Mr. Don Smyrk as sponsor, Beta Deca sold tickets to wrestling games. Having collected fifty-five S and H Green Stamp books, the club was chosen Florida State High School Champions in the S and H Green Stamp Scholarship Contest. Their major money-making project was a candy sale. In the spring club members hosted the annual Employer-Employee Banquet and attended the state-wide Leadership Conference at the Dutch Inn.

Carefully, Fred Baker searches for repair parts at Art Grindle.

Giving students the opportunity to function as a youth organization was the primary goal of ALPHA-OMEGA DECA. Visiting a pizza parlor, printing plant, and a radio station were field trips taken by the club before the energy crisis prohibited trips. Money-making projects included a placemat sale in the fall and a donkey basketball game in the spring. Profits were used to send students to a fall officer training conference and to winter district and state leadership conferences. Members participated in a student exchange day with other schools in the county to observe the operations of different CDE organizations.

Surveying parking stickers are Robert Williams and Bob Wilborn.

Developing business leaders for the community was the main purpose of the RHO DECA CLUB. For use of the office and as a service project for the school, the club took a survey of car license plates and parking stickers in the student parking lot. The annual Donkey Basketball game which was held in March was co-sponsored by the Rho Deca club and the Alpha Omega Deca club. Money raised from bake and candy sales was used to send two members to the Distributive Education Leadership Conference in Miami in April.

Meeting the first Tuesday of each month, the SIGMA DECA CLUB, sponsored by Mr. Fred Sibert, discussed and organized projects for the community. Major service projects involved club members working with business, civic, and school clubs, such as the Kiwanis Civic Club and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, to help them organize various activities. Profits from candy sales were the club's financial source in sending members to attend district, state and national Deca meetings at Miami in April. Students worked in many different places such as Disney World, Sea World, and various local stores.

Sponsored by Mr. Dale Wilson, FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN ATHLETES strived to achieve their goal of helping others less fortunate. Several trips were made to give clothes, toys, books, candy, and games to Harry-Anna Crippled Children's Home. Financial projects included selling Krispy Kreme doughnuts and having car washes. At the end of the year, Fellowship of Christian Athletes sponsored a banquet for parents, members, coaches and their wives.

Led by captain Jo Seijo, JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADERS supported the JV teams. Chosen in mid-September, the squad was composed of sophomores and juniors. Projects included car washes, candy and pep ribbon sales, along with helping Varsity sell basketball programs. With this money, JV's purchased green athletic jackets and letters. Combining efforts, JV and Varsity squads planned their annual Christmas party and helped with preparations for the Sweetheart Contest. At the end of the year, Varsity tryouts were held.

Before school in August, VARSITY CHEERLEADERS and sponsor, Mrs. Barbara Callahan, attended a National Cheerleading Association Clinic at Wildwood. They won a spirit stick and four first place ribbons. In September they held a spirit orientation for sophomores and later sponsored motorcades, made run-through signs, and baked cakes for teams. Fund-raising projects included selling candy, items at the pep table, basketball programs and sponsoring the Sweetheart Contest. With this money they purchased green and white saddle oxfords, letters, and pom-pons and also helped finance trips to several basketball tournaments.

During the football season the BAND boosted Trojan spirit with their half time shows at the games and while marching in the homecoming parade. Spreading cheer during the holiday season, the Marching Band performed traditional Christmas songs for the Orlando Christmas Parade and participated in the Christmas program for the student body. Keeping pace with the current 50's revolution, the stage band revived the early sounds of rock'n'roll in a performance for the youth of Temple Israel in November. In addition, the stage band played for the Sweetheart Contest in February. Initiating the select band into its program, the band strove to achieve superb quality musicianship for the district contest held in March. This new band was composed of members from both the symphonic and concert bands. Money raising projects for the band included selling garbage bags, chocolate bars, and doughnuts on the weekends.

Hindered by lack of experience, VARSITY FOOTBALL faltered to an 0-10 season. In the second game against Oak Ridge, first string quarterback Bob Pryor was injured with a broken collar bone. Replacing him as quarterback for the season were junior Vernon Hair and sophomore Mike Cullison. Leading the defense in rushing for 411 yards was Mike Dorsey. Both Clarence Hannah and Bill Wilson completed 100 original tackles, while George Karr, Vernon Hair, and Bill Wilson had three interceptions each. Sophomore quarterback Mike Cullison threw five touchdown passes for 350 yards. Trojans closed the season with a total of 900 yards rushing, 700 yards passing, and experienced underclassmen.

Even though Trojans had an 0-10 season, VARSITY FOOTBALL almost upset two heavily favored opponents. Highlighting the season were games with Lyman and Edgewater. Evans lost to Lyman 9-6, but the Trojans controlled the game both offensively and defensively. Only in the closing minutes did Lyman manage a twenty-three yard field goal. During the second half the Trojan defense allowed no first downs, seven yards passing, and only ten yards rushing. Third quarter Trojan score came when Tom Prioleau carried for three yards. Against Edgewater Evans held Eagles to 20-14 in the third quarter, but fumbles led to 42-14 total.

With a 3-5 record JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL, coached by Ernie Chandler and Julius Gordon, ranked fifth in the Metro Conference. In the opening game JV's won their first victory over Lyman with a score of 19-13. Arthur Jones was awarded outstanding player. Losses to Boone and Winter Park were followed by victories over Apopka and Colonial. Best offensive and defensive players were Doug Daniels and Tim Massalene. JV's dropped the final game of the season to Edgewater 26-6. The only score came on a 35 yard run by Mark Cunningham. By the season's end fourteen players had been moved to varsity. Arthur Jones lead the season with seven touchdowns, followed by Ben McGrew and Mark Cunningham with two each, and Willy Childs and Doug Daniels with one.

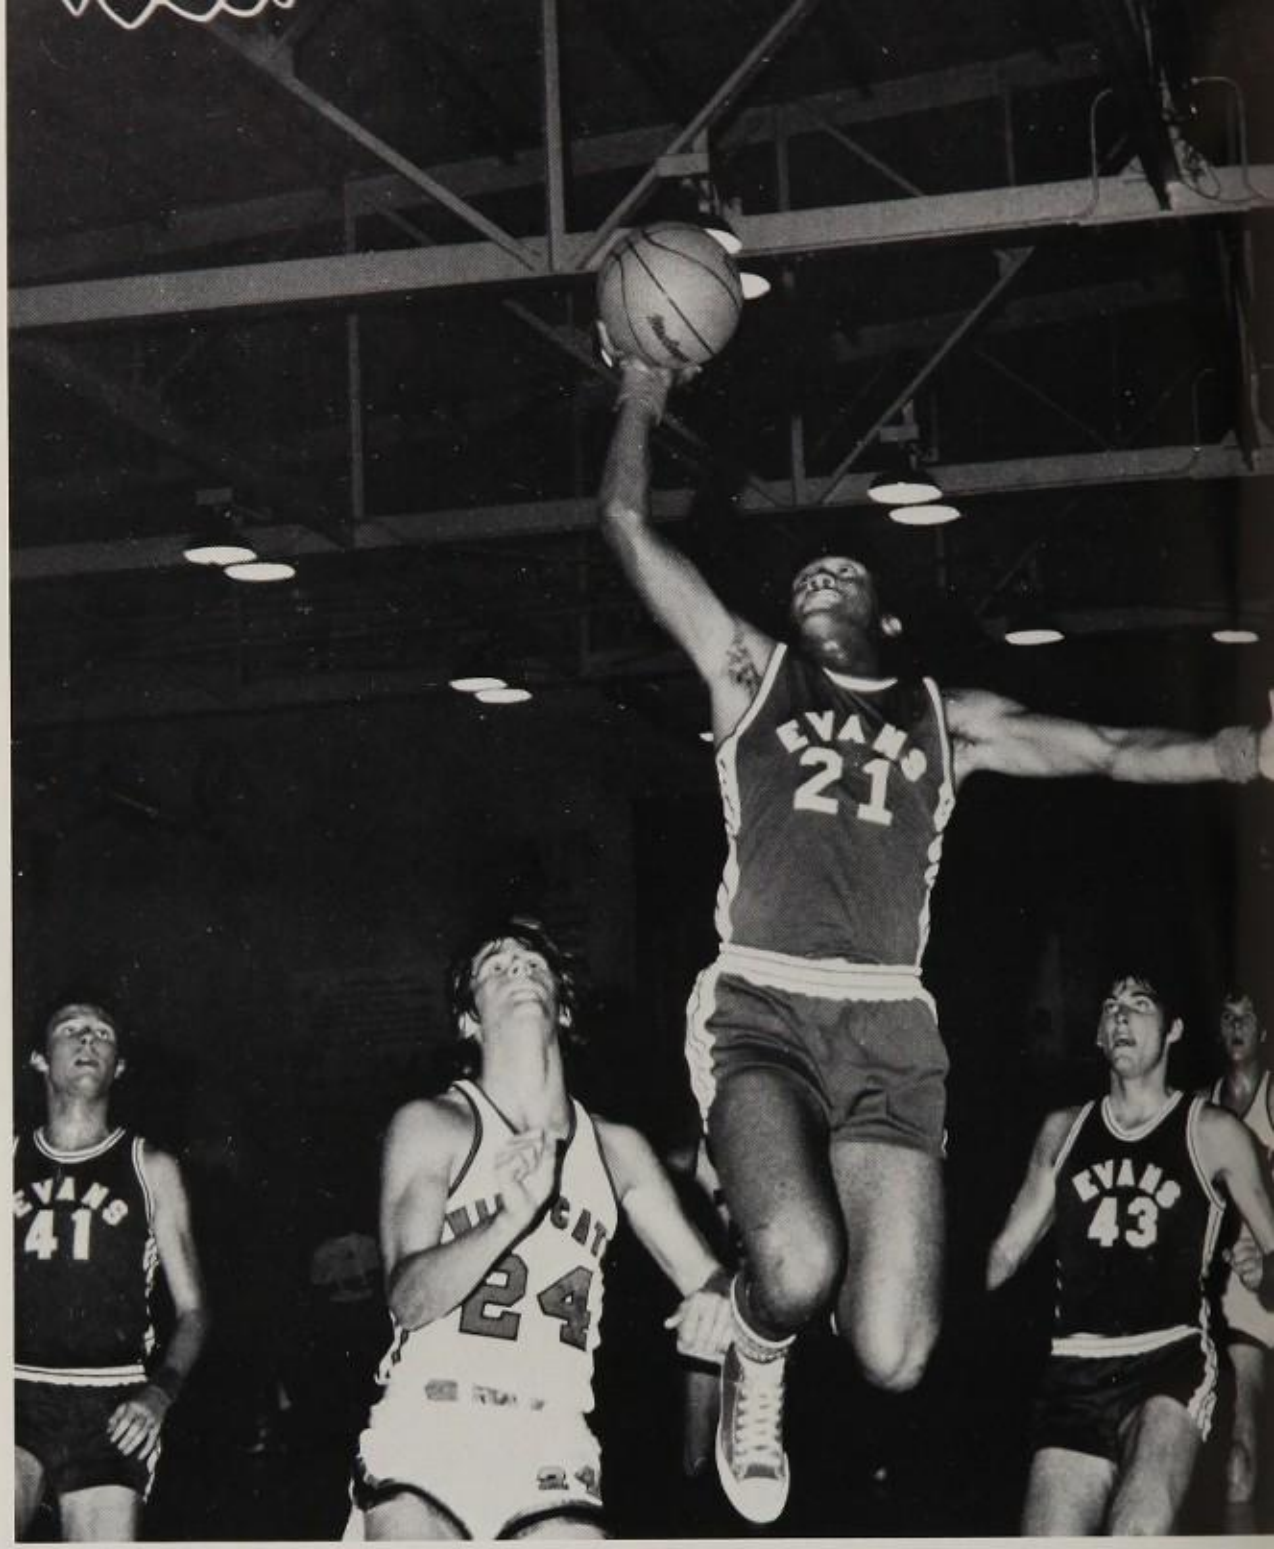
Unlike last year VARSITY BASKETBALL did not share the Metro title with Winter Park. Dominating the season, the Trojans finished 23-5 and NUMBER ONE in the METRO. Led by Coach Fred Pennington, the Trojan cagers suffered only one controversial loss to Winter Park. Outstanding players for the season were 6'9" center Darryl "Big D" Dawkins, named by Orlando Sentinel "Dr. D," and guard Eddie Kuhl, who scored twenty points alone in the season's last game. Darryl Dawkins led the team with most points and rebounds for the season and also broke eleven school records. Leader in assists with 95 was senior Smokey Wilkerson. As a team the varsity squad broke the field goal record with a 51% average. In the last game Darryl Dawkins with 43 points broke Gary Pozar's record of most game points.



On fast break against Winter Park, Smokey Wilkerson scores two.

Highlighting early season play, VARSITY BASKETBALL participated in two tournaments. Traveling to Winter Park for the Sentinel Tournament, Trojans captured second place and a week later in the St. Petersburg Christmas Classic took third. Other season highlights included games with Winter Park, Oak Ridge and Bishop Moore. Evans crushed Winter Park at home, and Frank Bernier scored the winning basket away at Oak Ridge. Dr. D hit 90% from the field against Bishop Moore and secured the eighth Metro title in eleven seasons.

Under the direction of first year Coach Richard Hulette, JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL captured first place in Metro Conference for the second consecutive year. The all sophomore squad was led by top scorer Dave Krazit. Grabbing the most rebounds for the season was Don Kuhl, while Mark Santolin claimed most assists. Willie Childs recorded the most steals for the cagers. Even though the final game record was 20-2, the team lost only one Metro game to Edgewater by one basket. Revenge was sweet the second time around when the squad crushed Edgewater 51-35. Leading the team was Willie Childes with fifteen points, followed by Don Kuhl with twelve. The only other loss was the second game of the season to Martin County.

Even though 1973 BASEBALL had a 7-1-9 record, it was still the first losing season in the eleven years of Coach James Gosnell's career at Evans. Most oustanding players on the squad were junior Bob Pryor, super soph Eddie Kuhl, and senior Scotty Baker. Not only did hurler Bob Pryor record the highest batting average of .300 and the most runs batted in of thirty-three, but he was also selected for the All-Metro team. Eddie Kuhl pitched the only shutout game of the season against Lyman, while Scotty Baker pitched a two hitter against Oak Ridge, only to lose in the tenth inning with a 1-0 final score.

Opening the 1974 BASEBALL season on February sixteen in Satellite Beach, Trojans began a twenty-one game season schedule which ended in late April. Early in the season Coach James Gosnell's main concern was a young pitching staff, which boasted four left-handed hurlers. Led by Bob Pryor, others on the staff included Terry Clarke, Joe Cooper, Eddie Kuhl, Larry Atherton, Mark Neal, and Jeff Suttie. Pryor, youngest of the Pryor brothers, all of whom played for Gosnell, two of whom became professionals, was the last of the Pryor clan. With six returning lettermen Trojans looked to a winning season.

Finishing the year with a record of 7-10, the 1973 GOLF team placed sixth out of the thirty-four schools in the district. Joel Loggins captured ninth place in district tournament out of 146 participants with a score of 79. Bettering the previous season's win record by sixty percent, the 1973 team lost nine of those ten defeats by a total of only twenty-five strokes. The team also boasted wins over both Bishop Moore and Winter Park, which were in first place when defeated. Under the direction of Coach Richard Hulette, the 1974 golf team began practice in February with the first Metro Conference matches scheduled for March. The team included three returning lettermen among its members.

Having one of the most successful seasons in Evans TENNIS history, the girls' team finished 1973 with an 11-0 record, giving them the Metro title. In district the girls' team placed second which qualified them for state championships. Nancy Coppola was district champion and the Sun's 1973 "Athlete of the Year." The boys' team finished third in Metro and sixth in district. Looking forward to another winning season, Coaches Joy Wilder and Tim Batchelor started practice for the 1974 season early in the fall. Returning lettermen were Steve Daugherty, Kevin Noppinger, Nancy Coppola, and Kathy Huber.

Sponsored by Miss Dorothy Starbird and Coach Tom Hynoski, INTRAMURALS gave classmates a chance to compete against each other. For the first year gymnastics was offered. Students were given a chance to work out on uneven bars, balance beam, trampoline, and horse. Competition in handball, softball, football, and volleyball was offered. Weight training was also provided for interested students.

Leading the 1973 SWIM TEAM in new school records were Bruce Epple with five in backstroke and Debbie Kidder with four in the individual medley. Other records were broken by Steve Drexler, John Thompson and Jan Cullity. Pam Rogers set a Metro Conference record in the 100 yard breaststroke with a time of 1:10.9. Coaching the team were Mr. Art Carlson and Mrs. Gerry Preisser. The 1974 team began weight training in October, entered the water in January, and had its first meet in February.

After placing second in the Merrit Island Open, 1973 TRACK continued to rank high in their meets. The team also placed second in Metro, third in District, fourth in Regionals and seventh in the state competition. State A.A.U. champ, Mike Ross, broke the school shotput record with 53'1", which won him a trip to the Nationals the following summer. Gary Fowler, Metro Conference District Champ also broke a school record with a discus throw of 154'. Setting a new school record in the 440, 880 and sprint medley-relays, a team consisting of James Fleming, L. C. Jones, Tom Whitley and Alonzo Williams dominated Central Florida in those three events.

Under the direction of Coach Richard Skelton, CROSS COUNTRY came in second in Metro with twelve wins and two losses. Taking first in the Edgewater-Bishop Moore, the Winter Park-Boone, and the Winter Park-Edgewater Meets, they went on to place second in the Lyman Invitational and Colonial Open. Captains of the team were Greg Sparks and David Darling. Trojans took third in the District Meet hosted by Edgewater and placed twenty-first in the state.

Although failing to recapture the Metro Conference title, the Evans SOCCER team did produce three All-State candidates: Paul Jaffe, Jim Lalone and Mitch McNab. Varsity defeated both Bishop Moore and Boone for the second consecutive year. In December varsity traveled to Jacksonville for the Holiday Cup Tournament where they placed third. Under the direction of Coach Ernie Chandler, soccer boasted the only JV team in a North or Central Florida public school.

During pre-season practice goalkeeper Mitch McNab blocks kick.

Going for goal in game against Bishop Moore Hornets is Rick Dion.

Front Row: D. Gentry, Oscar Martinez, G. Cheros, Mark Norman, Paul Seigneurie, Rick Dion, Al Amato, Mike Amato, Chris Alexander, Bev Wells. Back Row: S. Gerwig, Jeff Morris, Alan Howard, Ron Person, Mitch McNab, R. Black, Paul Jaffe, Jim Lalone, G. Curenton, S. McMannen, C. Cunningham, D. Ward, Jim Pridemore. Not Pictured: Steve Kedzior.

Receiving pass, Reggie Black moves ball down field against Boone.

Discussing possible moves with players is Coach Ernie Chandler.

Passing ball to team member during Edgewater game is Paul Jaffe.

Principal and organizer of ADMINISTRATION, Mr. William Frangus held varied interests. When not busy with school-related activities, Mr. Frangus was a disc jockey for radio stations WORL and WDBO, specializing in big band music. He was credited with having one of the largest jazz and big band record collections in the nation. In addition, Mr. Frangus wrote as a guest columnist for the Sentinel Star, reviewed records for producers, and served as master of ceremonies for jazz concerts. Along with these musical interests, he was active in Boys' Clubs of America. As principal, Mr. Frangus was responsible for the overall organization of administrative policies and personnnel. He spent much time in conferences, on the telephone, in county meetings, and in the supervision of the school.

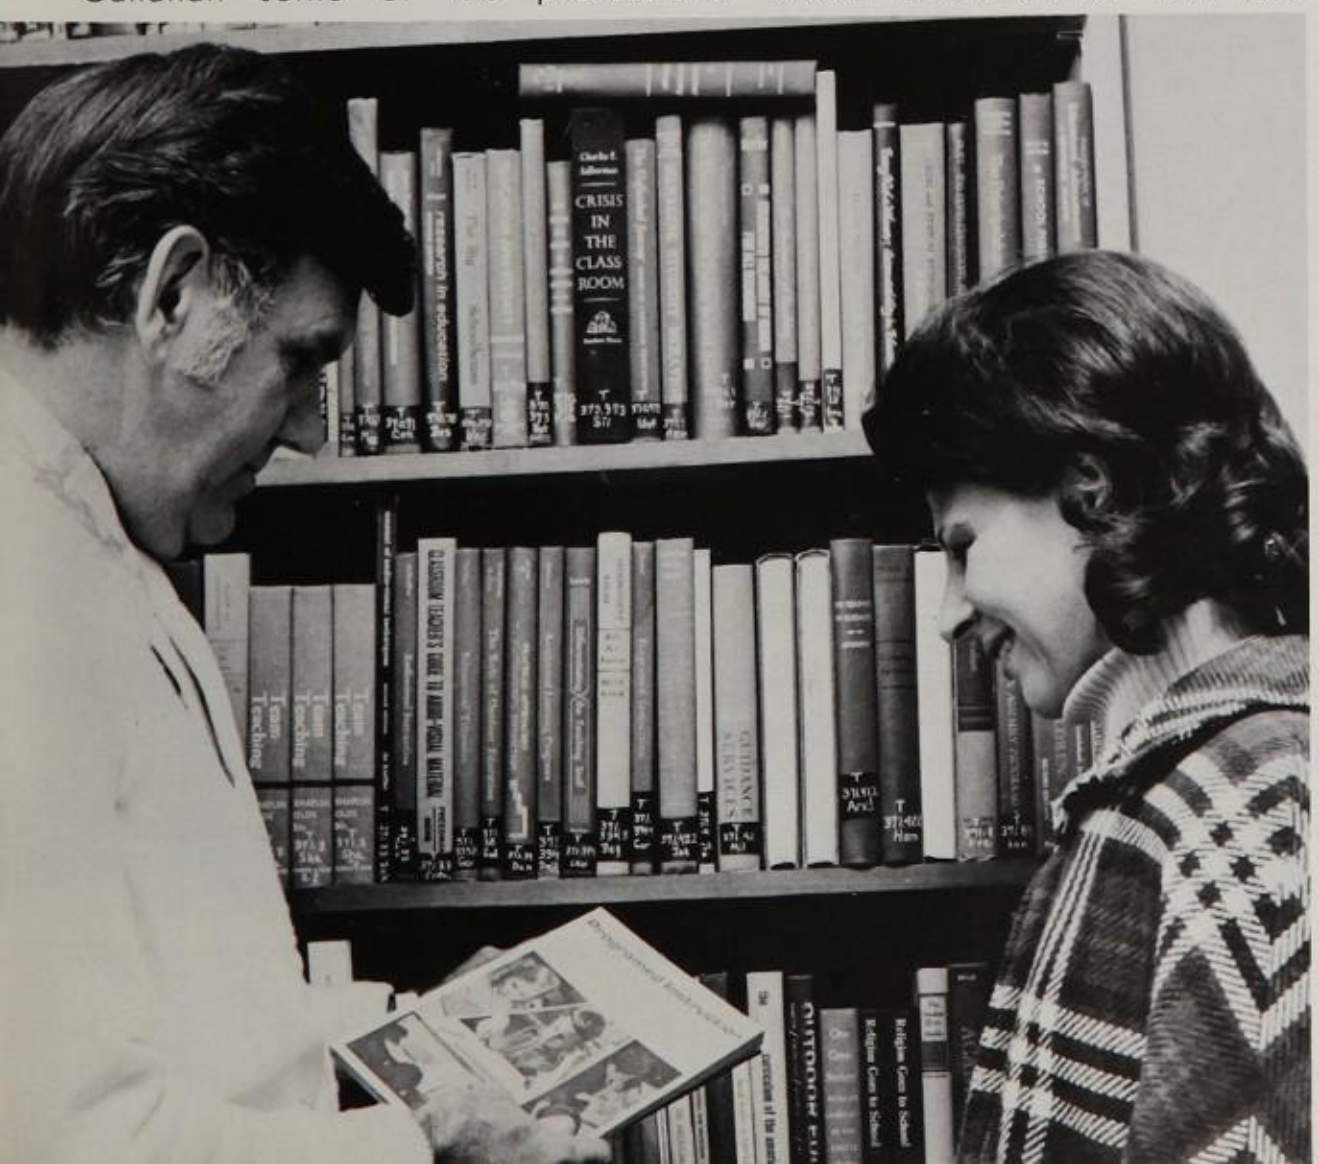
Completing sixth year as MEHS principal is Mr. William Frangus.

Puzzled, Mr. Bill Frangus contemplates play with Willie Childs.

Reviewing his jazz collection, Mr. William Frangus admires cover.

In his office, Mr. Harold Galloway counsels with Larry Dorsey.

In the new inservice room, Mr. Ronn Schwenn shows Mrs. Barbara Callahan some of the professional books available to teachers.



Checking new parking signs, Mr. Dale Brushwood finds violation.

During the summer, members of the ADMINISTRATION were busy preparing for the start of school. While Mr. Harold Galloway headed summer school, Mr. Dale Brushwood painted and carpeted administrative offices and reorganized the parking lots. During pre-planning, Mr. Emanuel Cheros was faced with school-opening problems. Even with increased student enrollment, portable buildings were removed so classroom assignments had to be revised. Late shifts in personnel caused changes in master scheduling. A schedule of classroom visitation and a new inservice library were handled by curriculum assistant, Mr. Ronn Schwenn.

Before school, Mr. Ronn Schwenn gives daily assignments to permanent substitutes, Mrs. Margaret Marshall and Mrs. Dell Kresge.

On Student Government Day, Mr. Emanuel Cheros explains IBM plant survey to his replacement, Greg Brooks.

Representing the Drug Abuse Council of Orange County, Miss Judy Gregory explains program to PTA members.

Receiving special PTA Valentine roses from Steve Drexler is Ana Martinez.

Aiding teachers and parents to get acquainted and showing parents the work of the students, the PARENT TEACHER ASSOCIATION held its annual Open House in September. In observance of Arbor Day, the Beautification Committee planted a eucalyptus tree and performed other projects around school to help keep the campus clean. PTA held a coffee reception for the teacher interns at the beginning of second semester to welcome the interns to the school. Selling of Valentine flowers was a major money-making project for the PTA again. Funds raised from the Valentine flowers and other money-making projects were used for beautification of the campus. Newsletters were written by president, Mrs. Jo Lowe, and were mailed to parents to tell of planned PTA and school activities.

Reviewing grade sheets, Mrs. Dorothy House searches for mistakes.

Explaining new console to Mrs. Shirley Bravar is Mrs. Jean Mills.

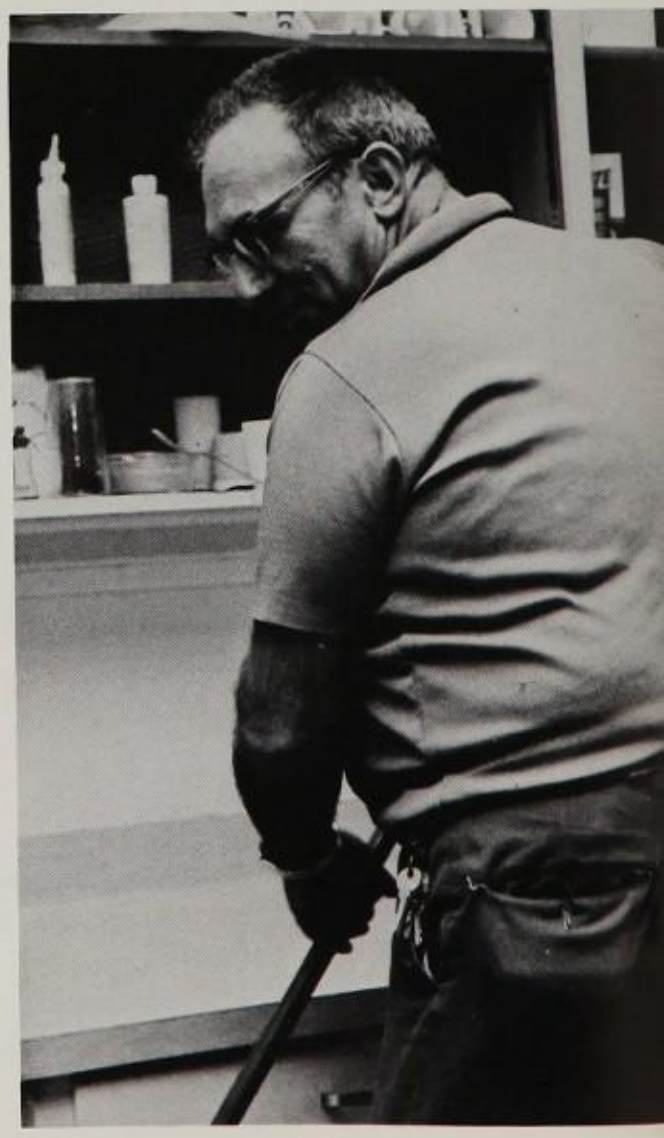
Intently, Mrs. Robin Teuton dittos more classwork for teachers.

At any hour of the day, the main office was one of the busiest places on campus as OFFICE PERSONNEL issued permits, passes and admits, answered students' and teachers' questions, and performed clerical and secretarial jobs for administrators. Efforts of these ladies were made somewhat easier by the installation of a modern new telephone console, replacing the worn fourteen-year-old switchboard that began with the school. Some rearrangement of work areas helped in office operation.

As part of her job as registrar, Mrs. Flo Neely interprets enrollment process to senior, Steve Atkinson.

After school, Jay Goodman empties trash can from the 200 building.

Planting sod by new building is student custodian, Jerry Jaskot.



Sweeping room is Mr. Leo Patti.

Having performed various tasks for 15 years, Mr. Harry Lloyd repairs typewriter for the library staff.

Weighing meat, Mrs. Agnes Furman begins her daily tasks as cook.

Numerous daily duties done by the LUNCHROOM and CUSTODIAL STAFFS included feeding hungry students, cleaning halls and classrooms, and repairing broken equipment. Preparing 1000 pounds of meat each week, lunchroom workers cooked and served meals to 1700 people daily. Under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Gale, lunchroom supervisor, cooks used three fourths ton of flour for baking in the month of October. After 15 years of service at Evans, Mr. Harry Lloyd retired in January with the intention to watch television and go fishing. Other custodians beautified the campus by planting sod.

In the GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT, aiding students with a potential vocational disability, either physical or emotional, was the main job of Miss Rayne Hall, the vocational rehabilitation counselor. Her work involved diagnostic and vocational assessment, vocational guidance and counseling, and job placement. Evans' first occupational specialist, Mrs. Jackie Moore, started a career information center outside her office in the administration building. She arranged job positions and placements in further training for students. Mrs. Moore also helped teachers find occupational information and resources for use in classes. New nine weeks grading periods eliminated some problems and paperwork for all guidance counselors.

Finishing up 306 renovation are Donna Gaddy and Miss Joy Lewis.

Political events were very much in the news in 1973-74, so the SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT was loaded with subjects to discuss, with Watergate, the Egypt-Israel war, and the energy crisis being among the major topics. Bulletin boards and posters were constructed weekly by students, relating with the latest class material. Students viewed movies and listened to guest speakers. As heated international problems arose, students never lacked articles for current events. Through student renovation of room 306, bright yellow walls, shag carpeting, fish nets, and aquariums replaced the commonplace interior of the traditional history room.

Testing Lake Sparling's water are Jim Brown and Debbie Kingsley.

Running tests to check Lake Sparling's pollution level kept ecological students in the SCIENCE DEPARTMENT busy. Water was brought back from the lake, and chemicals were added for a thorough test of pollutants. In their classroom darkroom, physical science students got the chance to print and develop exposed film. Those physics students able to brave the early morning chill viewed stars and planets through the telescope that Mr. Clarence Sheldon set up in front of the 400 building. In the months of November, December, January, students watched the Comet Kohoutek.

Opportunity to hold a pilot program, the genesis of its kind in Orange County, was given to the SCIENCE DEPARTMENT. Formally called Engineering Oriented Technical Education, this course prepared students for better jobs after graduation and tied in with further education in this field. Course work dealt mainly with electricity, mechanics, mechanical sketching, and the social aspect of technology. In Biology, students got the chance to breed rabbits and mice while lab students dissected frogs and cats. More chemically minded students mixed solutions, wrote scientific equations as $Zn + H_2So_4 \rightarrow H_2 + ZnSo_4$, and learned the appropriate techniques of working in a school chemistry laboratory.

To make the MATH DEPARTMENT more interesting, teachers used a variety of bulletin boards. To make the General Math courses more functional to students, the Math Department tried dividing General Math into two sections of mathematics-related vocational subjects. Trigonometry and Analytic Geometry were shortened to individual half year courses. Students used a number of tools such as mini computers, slide rules, protractors, and meter sticks to solve hard math problems. In March math teachers sponsored annual math contest.

Holding classes in the new building, the FOREIGN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT taught four different languages. For the first time, foreign language classes had a modern language lab to work in. Students listened to tapes of their language through a monitoring system. The teacher operating the console could listen to all the students at once or just to one student at a time. In order to stimulate interest in Spanish, the students all made project books showing pictures to illustrate the words. Latin classes held a Saturnalia in December where the Latin I students dressed and acted like slaves to the Latin II students. As a special project, the French III class performed for other French classes the play Le Petit Prince, by Antoine De Saint.

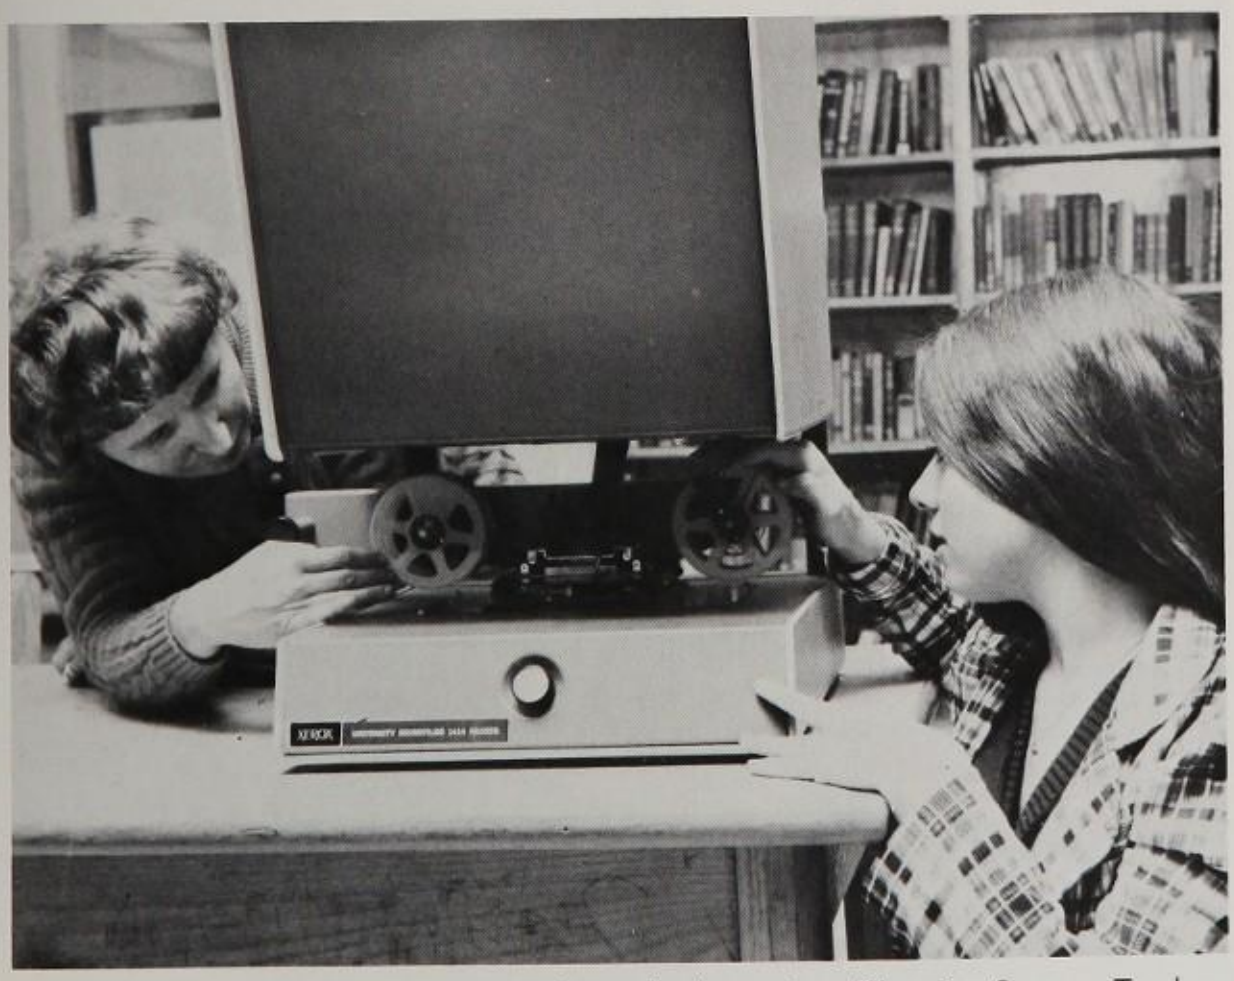
Reaching for a book to aid in her research paper is Brenda Porter.



Helping Mrs. Ellie DeWeese thread the microfilm is Susan Taylor.

In the audio-visual section of the school LIBRARY, students used aids such as motion pictures, microfilm projection machines, film strips, and records to help them in their studies. In addition to individual student use of the library, classes were able to schedule periods for reference. Four library student assistants were in charge of various library duties during each period of the day, such as shelving materials, stamping student passes at the door, and checking out books and magazines to students. Mrs. Ellie DeWeese, the newest addition to the library staff helped out Mrs. Barbara Pitts in audio-visual.

Classes in the ENGLISH DEPARTMENT moved again. All Drama, Speech, Humanities, Mythology, and Mass Media classes took up permanent quarters in the new air-conditioned 800 building. Other English classes were located in the retrievable building and one end of the science wing. Evans served as a district center with four English student teachers from Florida State University teaching during the fall months. A new course, Bible Literature, was introduced into the English curriculum. Students studied Bible stories in depth, bringing them alive with costumes, art, and projects. Cameras rolled in a Mass Media class as all the students produced their own film, Up the Down Staircase.

Their film completed, Gary Fowler and Brad Devendorf check results.

Giving a presentation of Esther in Bible Literature are Greg Brooks, Cheryl Mitchem, and Kerry Stamatin.

To Dr. Gordon Brossell, FSU, Miss Sharon Warren shows project.

Journalistic endeavors were expanded in the ENGLISH DEPARTMENT with the addition of a Creative Writing Publications course composed of advanced creative writing students. This class published a literary magazine with all writings being contributed by Evans students and teachers. Students in Senior Composition wrote essays, literary critiques, and research papers in preparation for college expository writing. Contemporary Literature projects enhanced the study of such novels as Lord of the Flies, Anthem, and To Kill a Mockingbird. Classwork was aided by the addition of speech and drama rooms with a stage, a reading lab, and new AV equipment.

Representative work of many students in the ART DEPARTMENT was on exhibition in various places including a full display in the lobby of the county school office in November and entries in the Winter Park Art Festival in the spring. Art rooms in 200 building were always full of student work of all kinds. A varied curriculum afforded students opportunities to learn such things as arts and crafts, oil painting, charcoal sketching, and various kinds of sculpturing. Art students also made and presented work for other departments including a Trojan painting for the gym and papier maché pump for a drama production.

Chorus, Music Appreciation

During class Mr. Leslie Knepper and singers practice for concert.

Band and choral students in the MUSIC DEPARTMENT were kept busy with numerous performances and practice sessions. Advanced chorus performed in the candle procession at Disney World in December and competed in various contests. All the choruses gave public performances just before Christmas vacation and in late spring. Marching Band played at all football games and competed in the marching contest at the Tangerine Bowl in December. Creating a new sound, the concert band added an electronic piano to their instruments. Along with the chorus, band members played in Christmas concerts for student body.

Highlights of the BUSINESS EDUCATION DEPARTMENT included several speakers. Members of the Business Law Class visited the Orange County Courthouse several times during the months of November and December. A corporate lawyer spoke to the class, afterwards holding an open discussion. CBE classes were moved to the 700 building, giving them better facilities for their office equipment. After nine weeks, a leave of absence due to family illness was taken by Mrs. Joan McCormick. Her replacements were Mrs. Anna West for nine weeks and Mrs. Mary Battle for last semester.

Improving her gymnastic ability on the parallel bars, Sonja Staniewicz practices to perfect her routine.

Concentrating on the target, Toby Bowen hopes for a bull's-eye.

Exhausted faces were common sights in the PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT after students participated in both team and individual sports. At the beginning and closing of the year, students were given Physical Fitness tests and were rated according to their skills in certain activities as the fifty yard dash and the arm hang. Gymnastics was added to the girls' classes allowing them to test their balance and coordination on the balance beam, the horse, parallel bars, and the trampoline. Equipment for this program was rented and sent to other schools.

Striving to break the record for longest arm hand is Robert Egan.

Beginning on a skirt and top, Shari Mariotti cuts out a new pattern.

Students learned fundamentals of home and family management in the HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT. Sometimes bringing in children to observe, Child Development classes studied the growth and care of infants. Cooks from foods classes prepared dishes such as spaghetti, stew, salads, and vegetables along with desserts of various kinds. Fashion Design students, after sewing awhile with printed patterns as in Fashion and Fabrics class, showed originality by creating their own patterns and garments. Students in Family Management classes, besides discussing banking and credit procedures, practiced wise shopping habits. Getting into the spirit of the holidays, food classes prepared Christmas goodies that they shared with administrators.

Teachers in DRIVER EDUCATION DEPARTMENT took their lives into their own hands every day as they went out on the road with student drivers. With eight cars on the driving range, students learned how to control a car by practicing maneuvers from figure-eights to parallel parking. In the classroom, students learned the internal mechanics of a car from the text book, movies and a new magnetic board. Students of fifteen and over who had their restricted licenses could take driver's education. Florida law stated that all students take Driver Education before acquiring their permanent driver's license.

Projects of string art and circles were used in teaching basic principles in the DRAFTING DEPARTMENT. As an end-of-the-year project, each student had to design his own house. By mid-term the drafting department received $4,000 worth of new equipment, including drawing tables, drafting instruments and machines. Students were encouraged to set up their own companies in the INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT. Woodcarved name signs were made and sold to many people outside school. Students made articles such as tables, bookcases, and desk tops for their homes.

Moving from the 700 building to the 100 building had its advantages for the VOCATIONAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT, giving classes more classroom and office space. With seventeen teachers and about one-fourth of the student body, Evans had the largest enrollment in the county. By dressing mannequins, students learned how to coordinate colors, and from the text book they learned how stores were operated. The agricultural branch of the department taught students how to care for all types of trees and plants on campus. They also grew small plants and bushes to sell. In Health Occupations, students learned the medical terms and functions of the human anatomy. Among places visited by these classes on field trips were hospitals and several day nurseries.

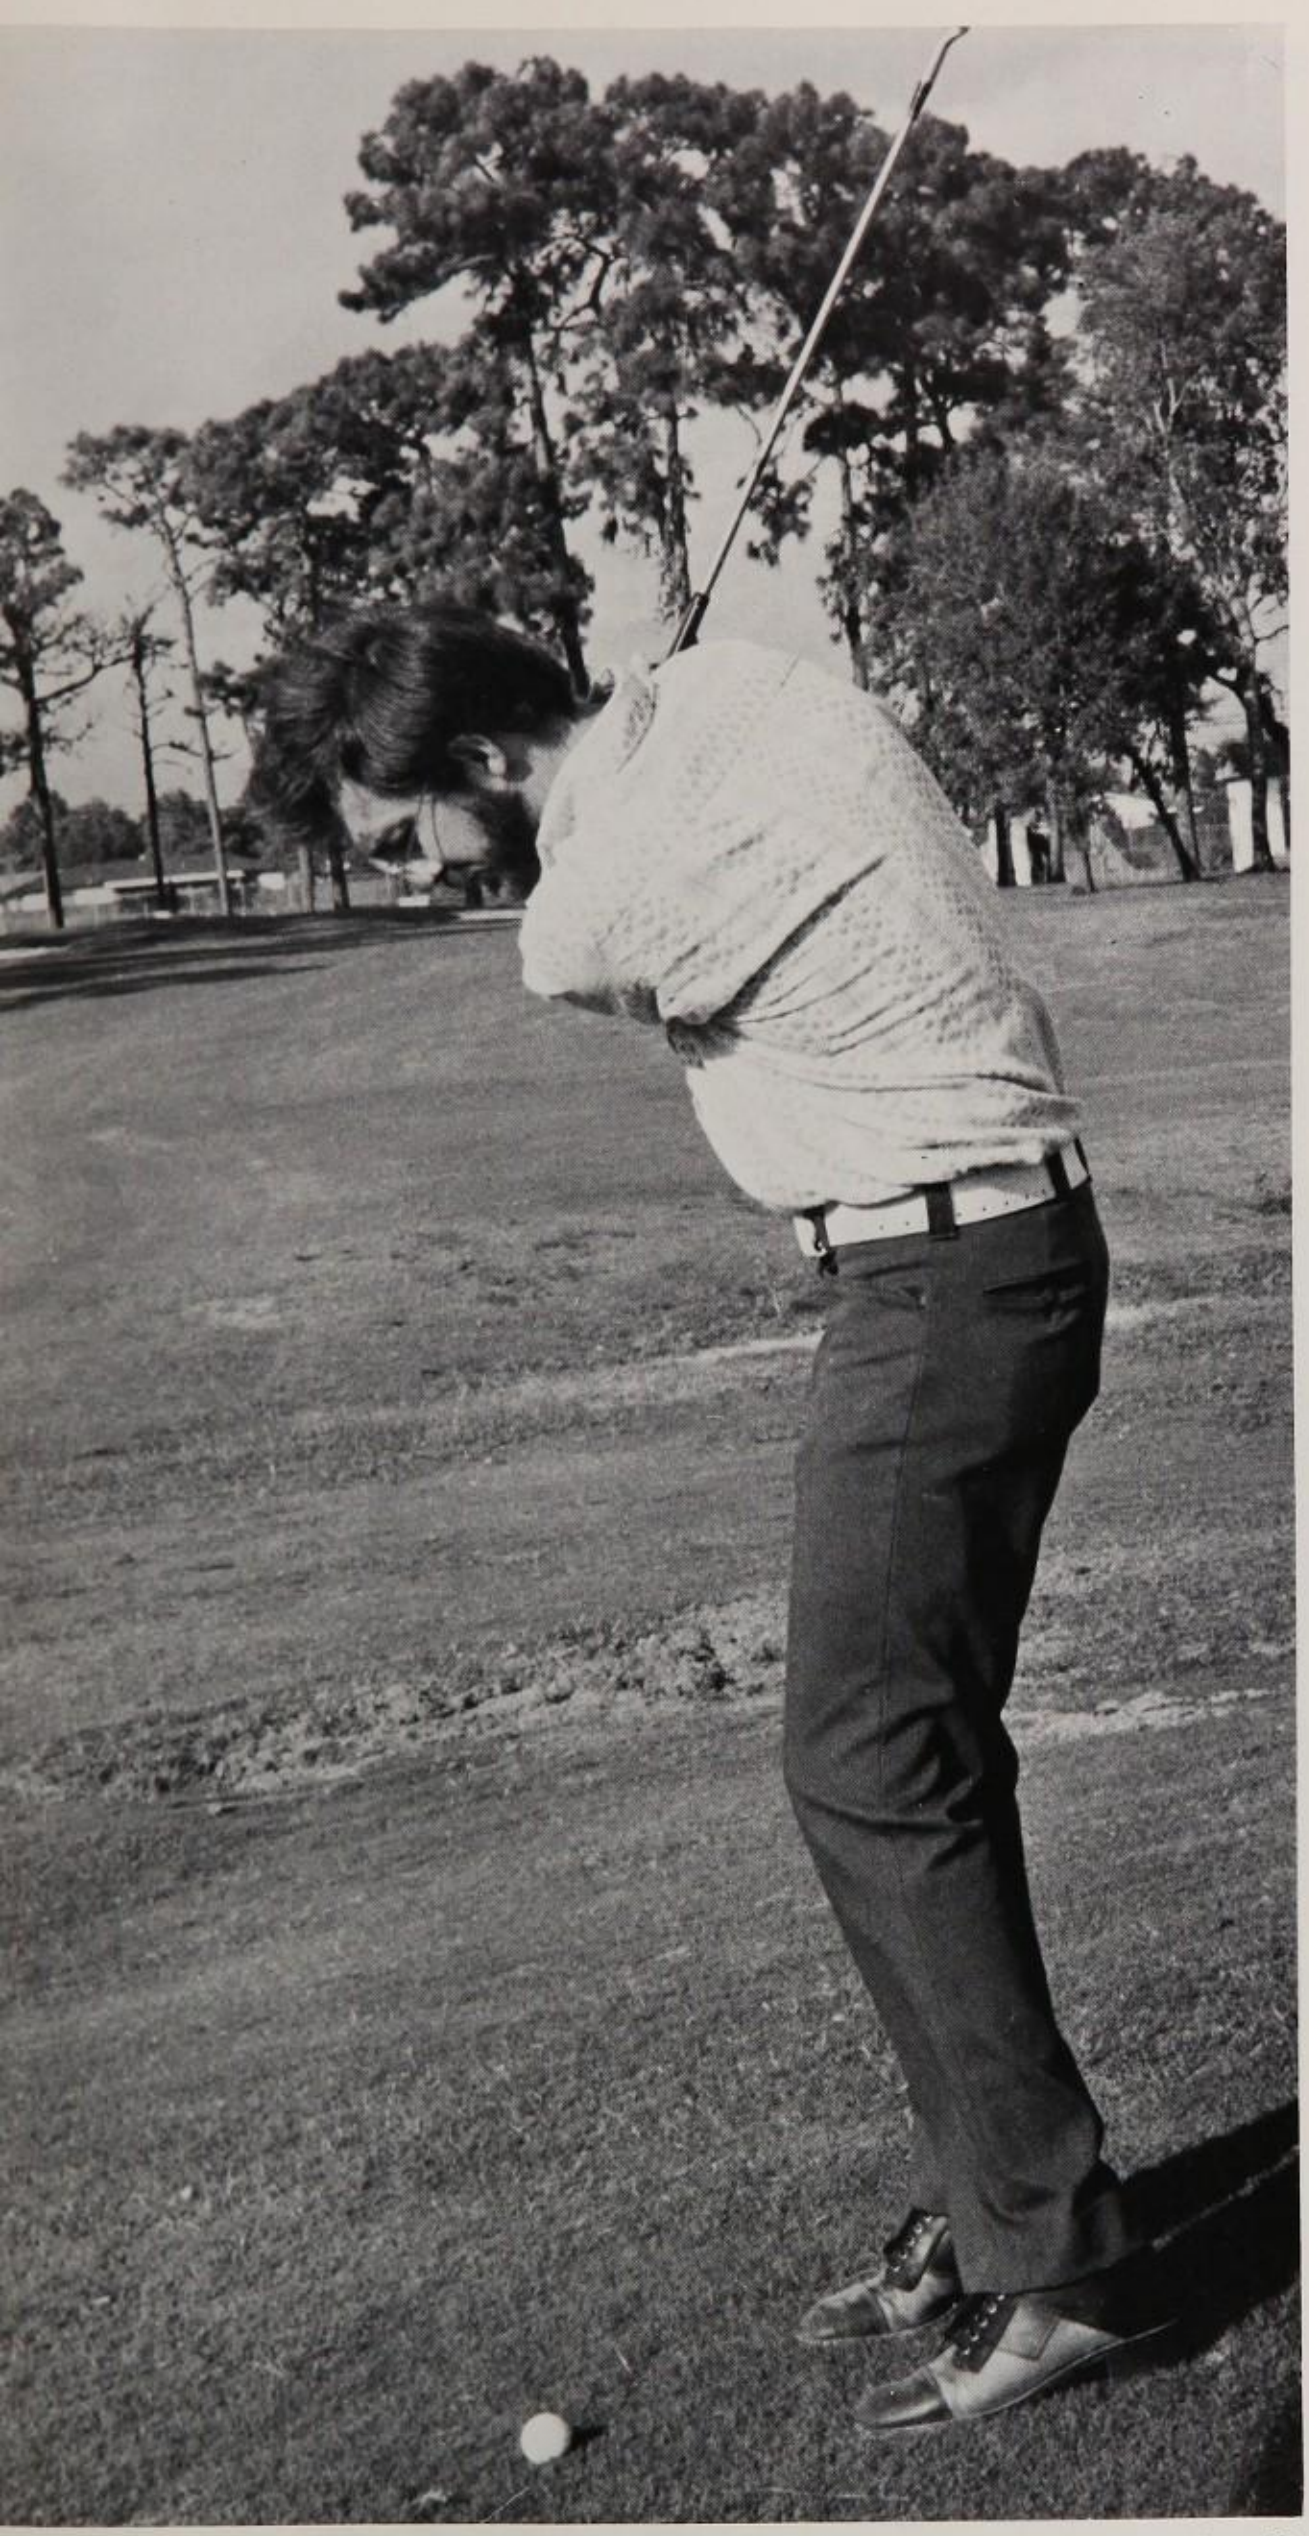
Outside of school, teachers involved themselves in various FACULTY INTERESTS by their participation in adventurous outdoor sports as well as in various indoor hobbies. One of the favorite pastimes of Mr. Tom Hynoski was the daring sport of skydiving. Several faculty members shared in giving a wedding shower to celebrate the marriage of Miss Gerry Blackwelder to Coach Gary Preisser. On weekends and after school Mr. Graham Coe relaxed and caught up on his exercise by playing a round of golf. A typical grandmother, Mrs. Dorothy Covington spent time watching her grandson, Bill Powell, build imaginative castles and bridges of varied colored play blocks.

Watching grandson, Bill Powell, build is Mrs. Dorothy Covington.

As Miss Wana Senter reads gift-opening comments, Mrs. Susan Rawson and future Mrs. Gerry Preisser react.



After a long day at school, Mr. Graham Coe plays a round of golf.

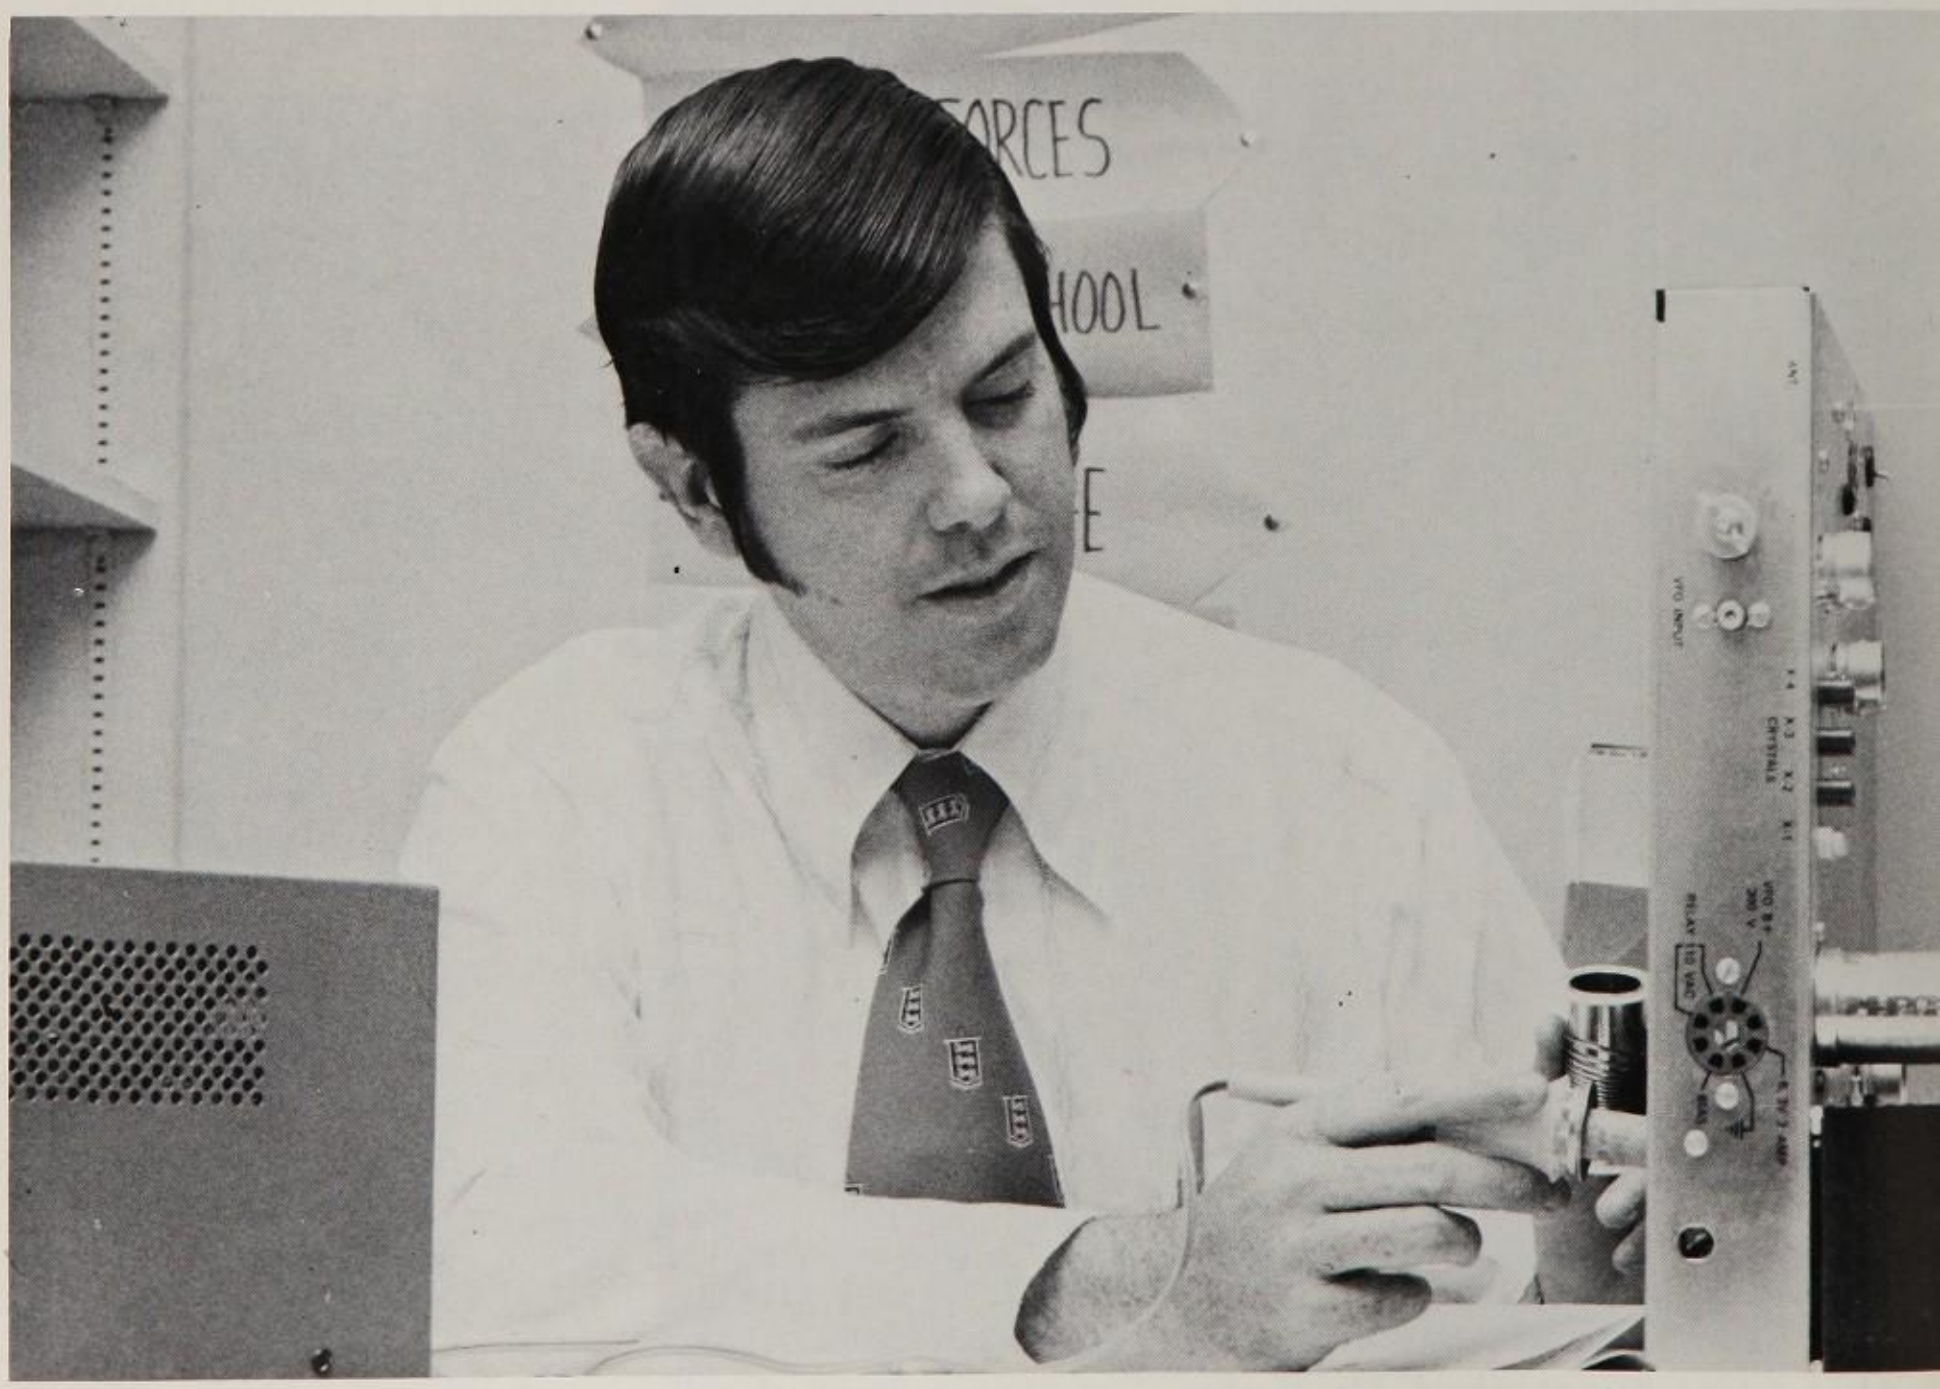
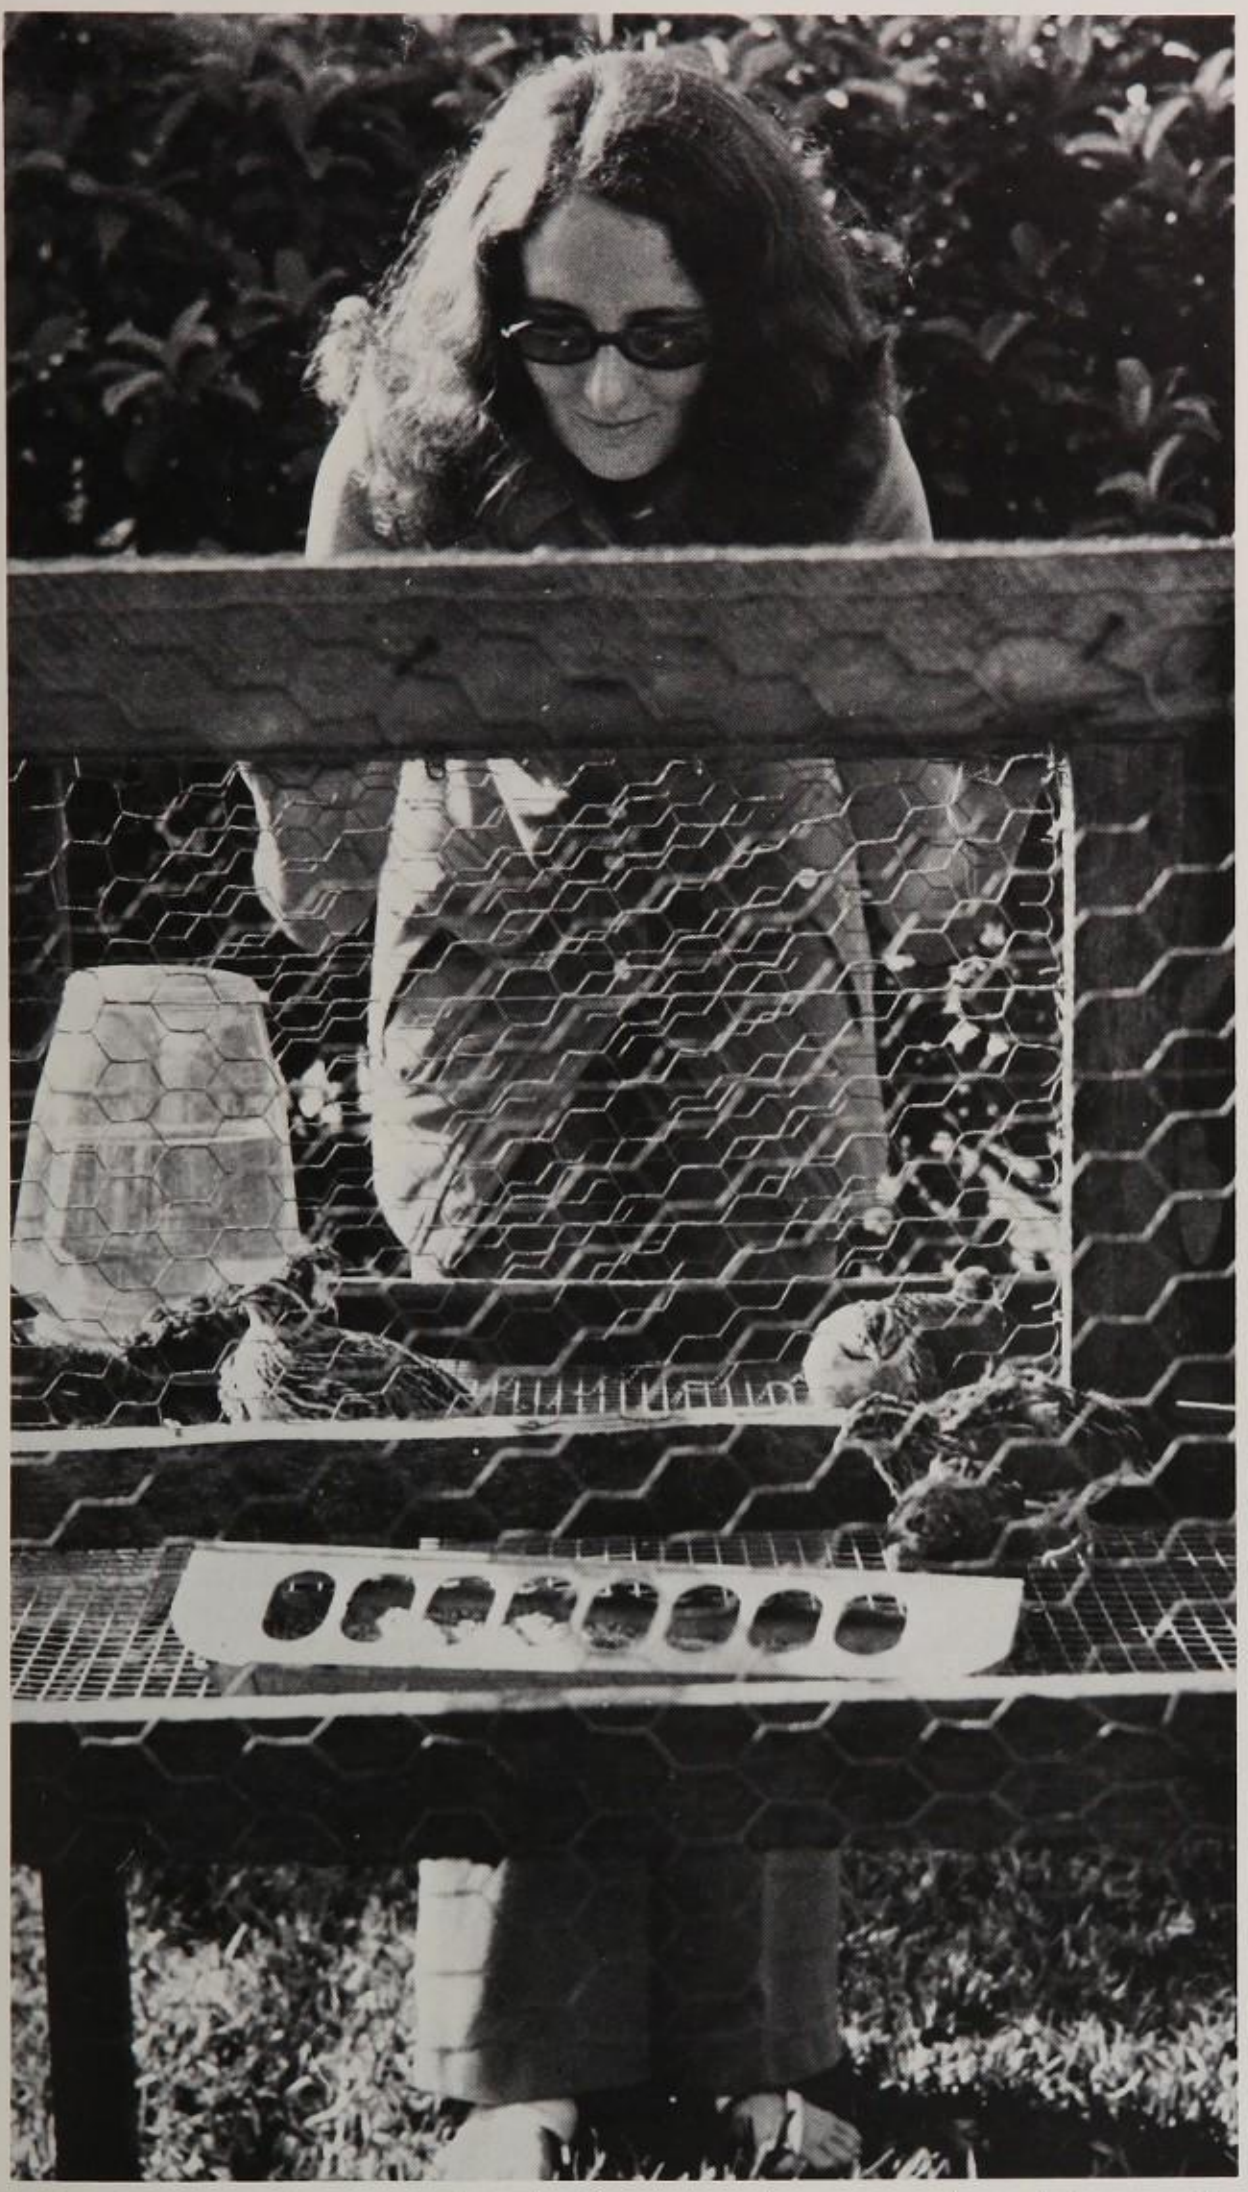
Enjoying writing in the quiet of the late night is Mr. Doug Pettus.



An amateur radio builder, Mr. Sid Tally utilizes a soldering iron to put together one of his transmitters.



In her back yard, Miss Deborah Chapman observes a few of her quails.

Besides teaching and extra curricular activities, many faculty members found outlets in varied FACULTY INTERESTS. Working on radios and transmitters occupied much of Mr. Sid Tally's time. Having written several short stories and a book about teenage life in the sixties, Mr. Doug Pettus continued his writing efforts in the peaceful late night hours. Knitted stuffed animals and dolls, all of which she created herself, could be found in the home of Mrs. Barbara Callahan. Quails were unusual pets of Miss Deborah Chapman, who raised them in different sized cages in her small back yard.

Spending her time knitting various dolls is Mrs. Barbara Callahan.

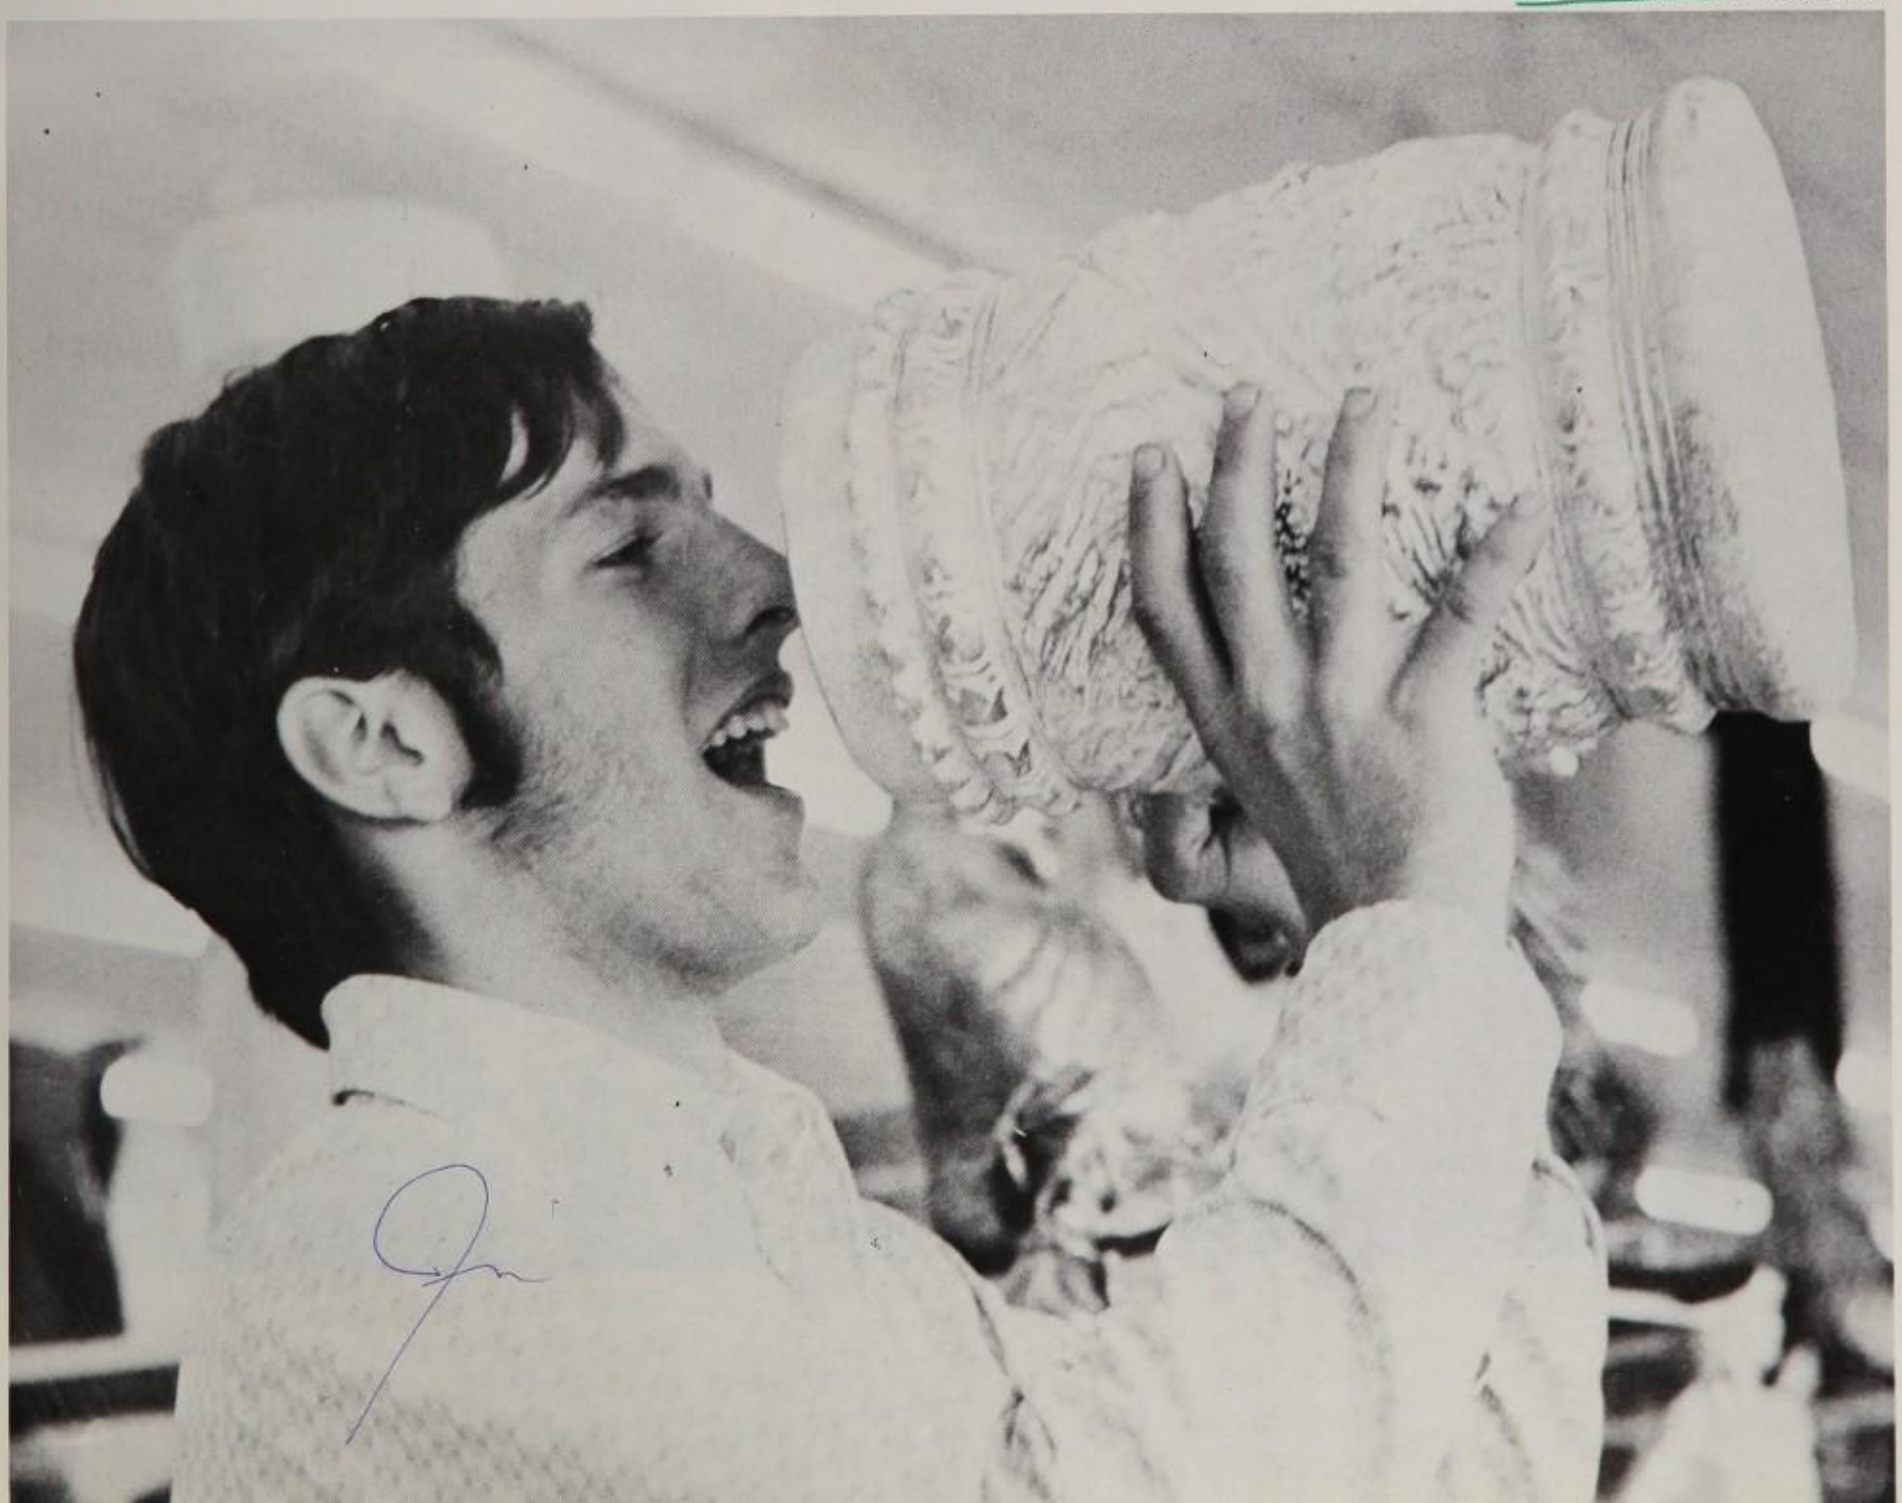
Kathy - Im really glad we became friends. This year has been super great, and next year promises to be better. Please try to get involved with SENIOR CLASS (#1) next year (o.k.?) Keep the faith, and the Trojan spirit! Keep smiling! Teresa Browning '75

GO TROJANS

Junior Class Officers

Sponsored by Mr. Henning Lindgren, the JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS concentrated efforts on fund-raising activities for the Junior-Senior Prom. Organizational meetings for the Junior Class were held on second and fourth Thursdays of every month. For homecoming juniors built a float with the theme "Off With Their Heads." Selling Christmas candles and animal banks were two main money-raising projects, along with a car wash at Holler Chevrolet. Prom was held May 3, 1974.

Jim Martin, President



Kathie,
It's been a fantastic year. I'm better since I met you. I Have a fantastic summer take care.
Friends,
Karyn - class of '75

IN MEMORIAM

DIANE HOSKINS

April 26, 1957 — August 31, 1973

DIANE WAS SIXTEEN

What can you say?
That she made your day?
That she made everyone smile
in her own special way?

Sixteen was Diane, sixteen and a day.
And then, my Lord, you took her away.
Diane brought laughter, beauty, friendship, and smiles about.
And should you have a problem
she'd help you work it out.
As I walk down the street in the evening
And look into the sky at night,
I gaze upon one star and see it twinkle, oh, so bright.
I know it must in some way be her, for she does fill those thoughts of mine.
So I'll go to sleep and think about how we'll be together again in time.

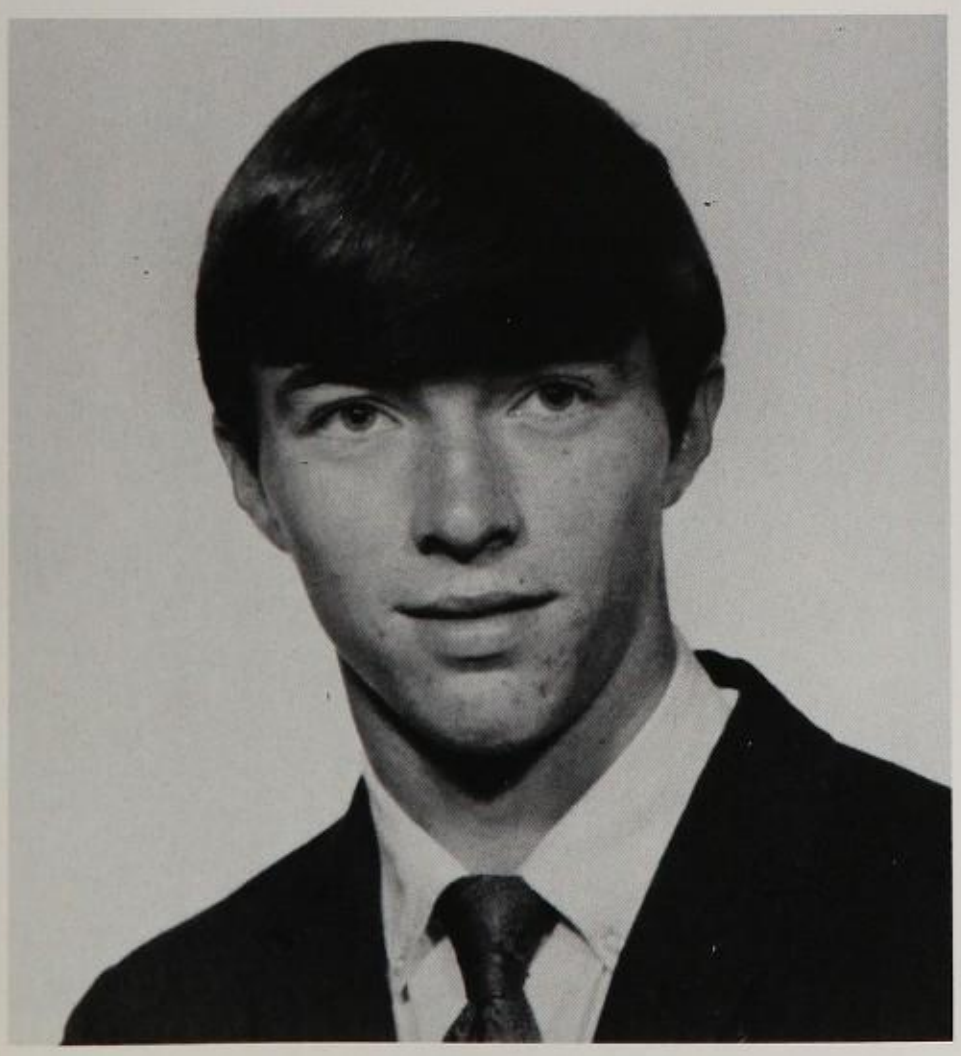
— Beverly Wells



LARRY JUSTICE

September 14, 1957 — October 31, 1973

DAY IS DONE

Larry is gone
No longer will he be with us.
But memories will linger on.

So young to die,
His days were so full;
But life was cut short.

Many mourned and grieved,
Those who knew him,
Those who did not.
He will be missed.

Memories will linger on.

Day is done.

Sophomore Class Officers

Leading SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS in their first high school year were co-sponsors Mrs. Lou Hollingshead and Mr. Bruce Suther. Meeting on the first and third Mondays of every month, sophomores, working as a whole, raised money by selling candy and stationery in order to build a treasury to pass along to the junior year. Sophomores sponsored the Senior Miss pageant and dance on February second.

Jeff Lantis, President

Enjoying friendly pillow fight, SOPHOMORES Sheryl Clements and Lori Forester make the most of weekend slumber party.

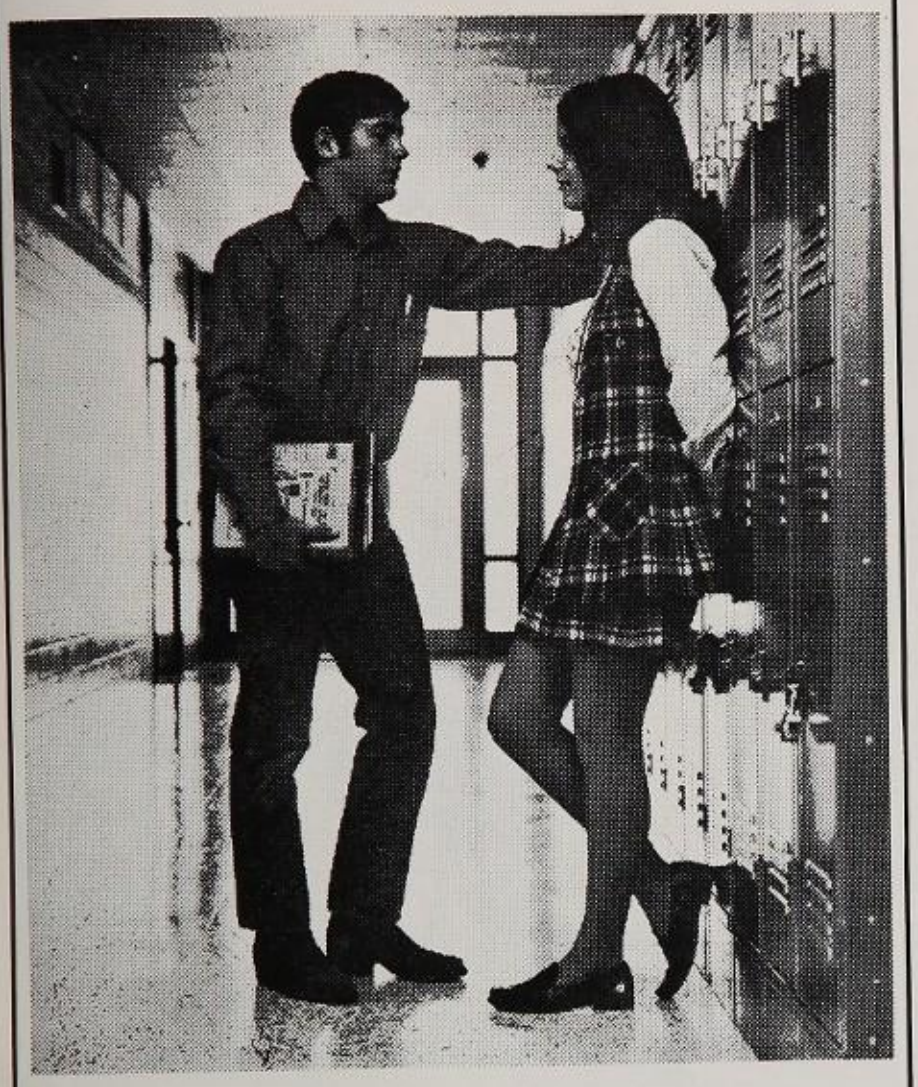
Where will you find yourself in a year or two?



Join the Air Force and you will find yourself doing a great job at an exciting duty station. That's because the Air Force gives you the chance to learn a skill, and the chance for foreign travel. Just two of the reasons thousands of young men and women enlist each year.

Whatever your goals are, Air Force training and travel can take you a long way toward getting your future off the ground.

Find yourself in the United States Air Force

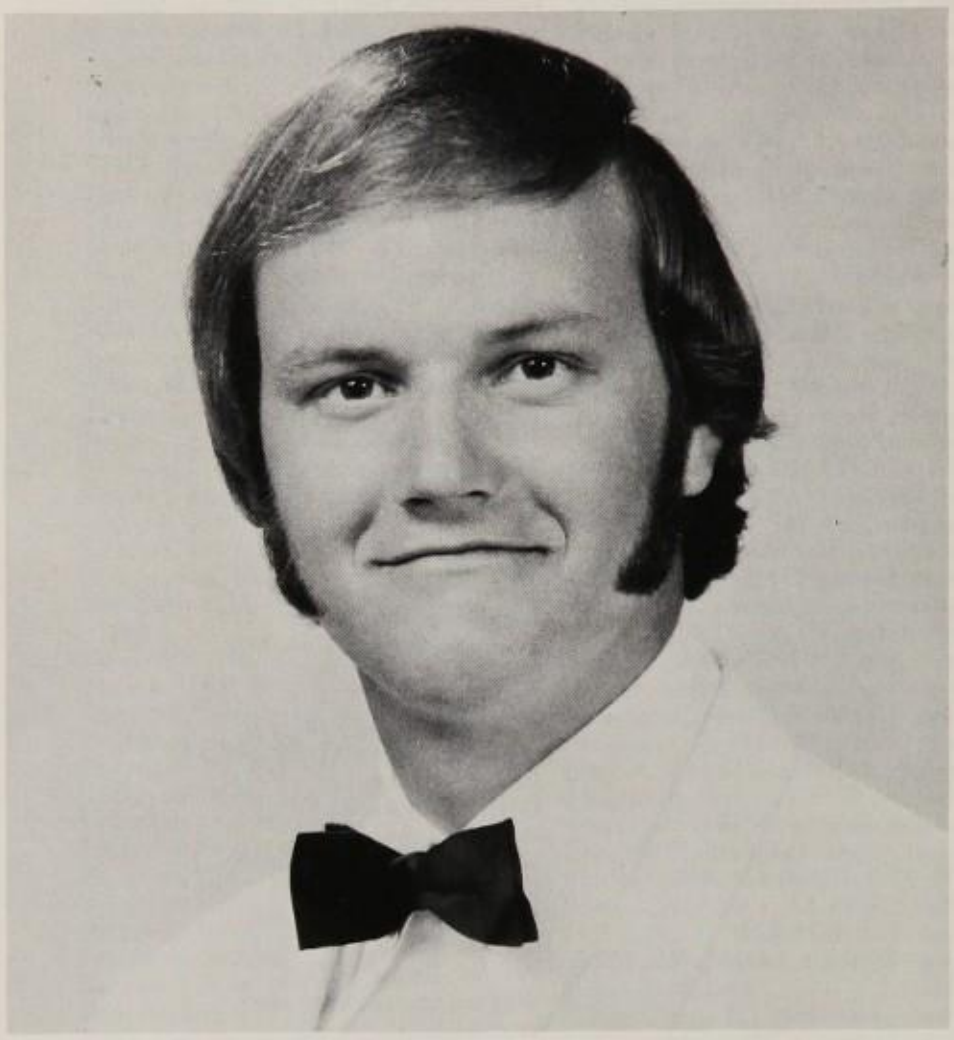
September 7, 1956-January 26, 1974



In one sense there is no death. The life of a soul on earth lasts beyond his departure. You will always feel that life touching yours, that voice speaking to you, that spirit looking out of other eyes, talking to you in the familiar things he touched, worked with, loved as familiar friends. He lives in your life and in the lives of all others that knew him.

Kathie,

Wow, what a year! And I have you to thank for it. I have had so much fun this past 4 months it is unbelieveable. I love you so much and I don't think I'll ever stop! I really enjoyed all the places we went together and I'm glad you were able to get out of your 4th hour class to come see me so much. I don't really think this page is big enough for me to say to you all the things I feel. The only thing I can say is that I hope I see you over the summer and I hope our relationship lasts forever! I'll never forget the way you picked me up when I was so down last January and I don't think I can ever repay you with enough love and understanding. I know this sounds like a mushy letter and it probably is, but I'm sure glad I'm writing it to you and nobody else. I love you!!!!

Kathie,
Well the year is over and old friends must say good-bye, but I hope we never have to say good-bye. We've really had some great times this year and I'll never forget them. I'm really glad you don't hate me now and that I don't hate you. Danny really messed us up. I guess we've made up for it this year though. I hope nobody finds out half the dumb things we've done. Only the other half (maybe)

Kathie!
Remember the time
we went to the horror house?
The little girl had to miss you out because you were so scared to stay in there!
